Ice Cream Parlor Turns Into Flaming Inferno

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI)—A vintage jet fighter taking off at an air show smashed into a packed shopping center ice cream parlor Sunday, killing 22 persons, many of them youngsters attending a little league football celebration.

Another 16 persons were injured when the privately-owned F86 Sabrejet barreled across a highway, struck three vehicles and bounced in a "ball of fire" into Farrell's Ice Cream Parlour.

"I'm sorry . . . I'm sorry. Get the people out," groaned

Richard Bingham, 36, Richmond, Calif., pilot of the plane. He was pulled from the wreckage while 200 screaming children and adults fought to escape flames that turned the Gay-90s style shop into an inferno.

Bingham escaped with some broken bones and a cut face from what was believed to be the worst disaster of this type ever to occur in the United States.

Sacramento County Coroner George L. Nilsen said 12 of the victims were youngsters, five boys and seven girls.

Five women and five men were also killed.

Related story on page 3.

He said at least two complete families were among the dead. A father, mother and two children made up one of the families.

The nose of the Korean War-era plane, one of America's first fighter jets being displayed across the street at Sacramento's Executive Airport, smashed into the parlor's Howard Hughes Room. A party was being held in the room for 20 youngsters from the Sacramento 49ers Little League football team.

Don McClusky, an employee, was filling salt shakers in the room when the plane hit.

"After I picked myself up I grabbed five kids and broke a window and got them out," he said. "But by then the smoke and flames were too intense and I couldn't get back in."

Linda Fourby, 17, Sacramento, was in a car which the plane missed by 100 feet. She said she ran toward the "screaming and breaking glass" at Farrell's.

"People were saying 'get me out, get me out! Where's my kids?' Everybody was trying to help everybody."

The plane, owned by Spectrum Air Services, which belongs to millionaire cosmetics manufacturer William Penn Patrick, hit one car on a highway and dragged them into the parlor.

Cites Need for GOP Congressmen

Ford Endorses Gilman

By LYNN MULVANEY

VAILS GATE House Minority Leader Gerald R. Ford came to Orange County Sunday to tout President Nixon and to implore fellow Republicans to elect Benjamin A. Gilman to Congress because "Dick Nixon needs a Republican House and Senate."

Assemblyman Gilman is seeking the seat now held by Democrat John G. Dow and is running in the new 26th Congressional District which includes three towns of Ulster County (Marlboro Shawangunk and Lloyd), all of Orange County and Rockland County.

Speaking at a $50 a plate dinner for Gilman held at the Meadowbrook Lodge in Vails Gate, Ford predicted that Nixon will run well in New York State but emphasized the need to elect a GOP Congress to back up his programs. Asked if he felt it would be realistic to expect the Republicans to pick up a net gain of 38 seats, he said the odds are against it but pointed to the net gain of 47 in 1966, suggesting that it is possible.

Ford was volatile in his attack of the Democratic presidential candidate, George McGovern, denouncing him as a radical and labeling him "inconsistent, weak and incapable of handling the job of president of the United States."

Alluding to Nixon's foreign policy, he called the progress made "phenomenal" and tagged McGovern's foreign policy "one of the weaknesses."

"What do Americans want as the stand on the threshold of this election?" he asked. "I want the steady progress of the Nixon Administration, not the on-again, off-again schemes of his opponent. I don't think we need the polls to tell us the American people don't like McGovern."

Gilman was equally adamant in the dressing down of his opponent. Attacking Dow's advertising which states "Keep Courage in Congress," the assemblyman asked:

"Is it courage to avoid telling the voters of our congressional district just where he stands on amnesty, beyond repeating over and over that it is an issue that we should not talk about now but should be studied after the war is over?"

"Is it courage to part of a group of congressional doves, some of whom recently declined the opportunity to go to Hanoi to witness the release of three POW's because 'it was too risky' in this political year?"

"Was it courage to vote against bill after bill, on issue after issue, just because every 'I' wasn't crossed or every 'I' dotted just the way he liked it . . . disregarding the objective of the measure?"

"Was it courage to place in

a projected plan is a fait accompli before making sounds about it . . . like he did with Stewart Airport expansion?"

"Was it courage to vote against the concept of an all volunteer army and military pay raises for our brave men in uniform merely because he was dissatisfied with some of the minor provisions of the bills which included the raises?"

"Was it courage to place in jeopardy six times in two years, the survival of that small bastion of democracy, Israel, because aid to that nation is included in a bill, some of which he does not like?"

"Perhaps the real courage our incumbent congressman is demonstrating is his seeking reelection on his unresponsive record in Congress," the assemblyman concluded.

Many came to pay tribute to Gilman including Congressman John Terry of Syracuse, Neil Kellerher of Troy, acting speaker in the Assembly who served as master of ceremonies and Hamilton Fish Sr.

Fish predicted that 30 per cent of the Democrats will vote for Nixon and he too urged the election of a Republican Congress because "the extreme left, socialists and Marxists are trying to burn down our institutions and socialize our American way of life."

Other dignitaries included Assemblyman Lawrence Herbst of Orange County, Assemblyman Eugene Levy of Rockland, Assemblyman Peter Biondo and Vincent Riccio, colleagues of Gilman in Albany; Orange County GOP Chairman William E. Doulin and Rockland Republican chief, Dr. Carmine Freda.

LEAVES FOR PEKING—Japanese Minister Kakuei Tanaka waves to crowd of well-wishers as he leaves Tokyo International Airport for Peking. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Tanaka, Chou Begin Talks

PEKING (UPI)—China and Japan, in their first formal talks since World War II, discussed normalizing Sino-Japanese relations today in a session described by Japanese officials as "surprisingly frank and very useful."

Chief Japanese Cabinet Secretary Susumu Nakaido said after the hour-and-40-minute meeting between Chinese Premier Chou En-lai and Japanese Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka that the discussions would produce "successful results." He did not elaborate. Other Japanese officials said the meeting was "surprisingly frank and very useful."

Tanaka, who fought in China 35 years ago as a Japanese soldier, arrived in Peking today and was greeted by Chou in a friendly but formal reception at Peking Airport. There was an honor guard to greet Tanaka, but no members of the Japanese diplomatic corps were present. Tanaka and his delegation first held a "protocol meeting" in the Great Hall of the People to get acquainted with their Chinese hosts.

At the airport, the Rising Sun flag of Japan was hoisted along with the Chinese flag for the first time since the end of World War II. Tanaka first came to northeast China, then known as Manchuria, 35 years ago as a soldier in the Japanese army.

Peking Airport was the scene of President and Mrs. Nixon's arrival Feb. 21 on their historic visit to China. The general atmosphere was more relaxed this time than last February—perhaps because it was reported that Tanaka—in formally announcing Tanaka's visit to Peking said he would meet with Chou to negotiate and settle the question of the normalization of relations between China and Japan and thereby establish good neighborly and friendly relations between the two countries."

There was no general public to greet Tanaka's delegation at the airport and he made no arrival statement. In downtown Peking's Tiananmen Square (Gate of Heavenly Peace), there was only one anti-Japanese sign. It read: "Peoples of Indochina, Korea and Japan: Struggle Against the Revival of Japanese Militarism by U.S. and Japanese reactionaries."

Seymour Tells Why He Fired Burns

MINNEWASKA LAKE, N.Y. (AP) — U.S. Atty. Whitney North Seymour Jr. says federal antipollution efforts have been hampered more seriously by "opportunistic conservation groups" than by industry, utilities or special interest pressures.

Prosecution of pollution cases, Seymour said Sunday, had been made "difficult and at times almost intolerable because of the thoughtless, groundless assaults" aimed at his office by "certain publicity-seeking, self-styled conservation spokesmen."

Addressing a conference of the Environmental Planning Lobby, Seymour also said he had fired one of his assistants, John M. Burns 3rd, because Burns was "misusing the powers of office for what turned out to be personal political gain."

The federal prosecutor for New York's Southern District, without mentioning Burns by name, said the former assistant U.S. attorney had made "out-rageous accusations that we had no interest in enforcing pollution laws."

Burns, who at the time of his dismissal said the firing was prompted by his zealous prosecution of Hudson River polluters, is currently a Democratic candidate for Congress, running against Republican Rep. Hamilton Fish.

In a telephone interview from his home in Carmel, Burns said Seymour's comment about him amounted to "a political attack" and called it "entirely inappropriate for a U.S. attorney."

"I had no political ambitions at the time I was fired," he said. "I did have the ambition to use the office that I held to get the Hudson River cleaned up."

Earlier this year when Burns announced his candidacy and addressed the Sixth Annual Saugerties Democratic Club dinner, it was pointed out that "throughout 1971, Burns led a prosecution case against corporate polluters of the Hudson River. In so doing he gained national prominence (reported in the Jan. 25, 1971 issue of Time Magazine as the 'Dreyfus Case on Pollution') and according to Burns he lost his job as the executive assistant United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York for his 'overenthusiastic' pursuit of polluters."

Burns has served as counsel for the New York State Senate Committee on Housing and legislative counsel and consultant in Albany to the Office of Economic Opportunity in the field of education. He has also served as chairman of the Citizens Union Committee on State Legislation in New York City and is the president of the Hudson River Sloop Restoration Inc.

Dutchess Woman Dies In Weekend Accident

LAGRANGEVILLE — A 25-year-old Dutchess County woman was killed and three other persons were injured at 10:50 p.m. Saturday as the result of a two-car collision that occurred at the intersection of Route 55 and Beekman Road in the Town of Beekman.

Several other persons were injured in other highway mishaps that occurred in Ulster, Greene and Dutchess counties, according to authorities.

Killed in the Beekman crash was Stephanie Gaynes, of Todd Hill Road, LaGrangeville.

Poughkeepsie troopers said the woman was a passenger in a car driven by Edward Estersohn, 21, of Philadelphia, Pa. The other vehicle was operated by Robert Harris, 20, of Route 216, Poughquag. Estersohn was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

Injured in the mishap were Harris, who sustained head injuries; Estersohn, who suffered fractures of the left leg and pelvis, and internal injuries; and Dorothy Rough, 15, of Lime Ridge Road, Poughquag, who received a possible fractured pelvis and bruises. The injured were taken to Poughkeepsie Hospitals.

A minor mishap on Route 32 in the Town of Rosendale early today resulted in the arrest of William Suservo, 35, of Wallkill, on a charge of driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated. Troopers G.R. Mack and R.D. Burdine of the Hurley station arraigned the man before Rosendale Town Justice Albert Morelli who committed the motorist to the county jail in lieu of $100 bail.

Later, a search of Suservo disclosed three marijuana cigarettes, troopers said. He was rearraigned in court of a charge of criminal possession of dangerous drugs sixth degree, and additional bail of $100 was set.

Two Greene County brothers were injured in unrelated weekend traffic accidents, according to Leeds State Police. Troopers reported Maxwell Fuemann, 20, of East Durham,

KINGSTON
The city has two choices on an urban renewal proposal for street work on Delaware Avenue and Livingston Street; either one will cost money, it's just a question of how much.

The streets in question are on the perimeter of the Broadway East Urban Renewal Project and under an agreement signed by the city and the federal government in 1964, the city is responsible for partial payment on the street work.

The two choices the city has, and the agency will agree to either, is whether to have the streets reconstructed or just resurfaced. The difference is considerable both in the extent of the job (and how long it will last) and the cost.

The cost of a complete reconstruction of Delaware Avenue from Gross Street to just beyond First Avenue, which also includes new sidewalks and curbing, has been set at $103,802 by the agency with the city paying half, or $51,901.

The cost of the complete reconstruction of Livingston Street between Stuyvesant Street and the intersection of Hasbrouck and Delaware Avenues (again, with new sidewalks and curbing) would be $37,676 with the agency paying $28,257 and the city paying $9,419.

The cost of resurfacing

Delaware Avenue (with new sidewalks and curbs) has been estimated at $50,002 with the city and the agency equally sharing the cost.

The cost of resurfacing Livingston Street (with sidewalks and curbs) is estimated at $20,476 with the agency paying $15,257 and the city paying $5,119.

Thus, the city's choice is between paying $61,320 for the complete reconstruction of those streets or $30,120 for their resurfacing. Resurfacing of a street is generally considered more of a temporary thing with the effects lasting five to ten years at the most depending on the quality of the work and subterranean conditions while a complete reconstruction is usually good for 20 years or more, again depending on the quality of the work and sub-soil conditions.

James G. Connors, urban renewal executive director, says that agency engineers "strongly recommend" the reconstruction of those streets. Alderman Clifford G. Sinsabaugh (D-10th Ward), chairman of the Urban Renewal Committee, agrees with the agency's position. Sinsabaugh and his committee met with the agency last week to review the figures on the street work. "It makes sense to me to go with the reconstruction," Sinsabaugh said. "We'll get a quality job that will last for years and we'll get

Nixon Presses U. S. Case For World Monetary Reform

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon presses the U. S. case for reform of the world monetary system today, kicking off the annual meeting of the 24-nation International Monetary Fund.

Nixon's scheduled appearance diverted some of the attention from a growing debate over the future leadership of the IMF as it starts the long process of shaping a new financial system.

U. S. Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz added new fuel to the debate Sunday, telling newsmen that the United States opposes re-election of IMF Managing Director Pierre-Paul Schweitzer because it wants a "fresh outlook" and a younger person in the job.

Schweitzer, a 60-year-old Frenchman who has headed the IMF since 1963, said only a day earlier that he wants to remain in his post despite U. S. opposition. Unless he is named to another five-year term by Sep-

Survivor of Ice Cream Parlor Crash

'Sounded Like Another Gimmick'

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — Twelve-year-old Christie Kiehn and her family were digging into an ice cream treat called a "Zoo" when "something crashed right behind us and people began screaming."

"I thought it was just another gimmick," Christie said, referring to the fanfare and frills that accompany the many sumptuous dishes served at Farrell's Ice Cream Parlor, nicknamed "The Happy Place."

Instead, it was a jet fighter which slammed into the parlor, turning it into an inferno and killing 22 persons.

"The wood poles started breaking and everything started floating all over the place," Christie said. "All the tables went on everybody. The whole place came in."

She grabbed Kerri Francis, a 3-year-old youngster traveling with the family, and crawled through the burning rubble to safety. She tried to return for Kerri's twin, Kristi, but couldn't.

"I climbed over all sorts of stuff, maybe some of it was bodies," the girl said.

It was a cloudless Sunday afternoon and many families had gone to the ice cream parlor for birthday celebrations. The Sacramento 49ers, a Little League football team, was having a party at the time.

Wearing a straw hat and a gay nineties uniform, employee Don McClusky was filling a salt shaker when the F86 Korean War-vintage plane crashed into the Howard Hughes Room of the establishment.

At first he tried to put the raging fire out with extinguishers. But he quickly gave it up.

"There was no way to help them," he said. "It was mass confusion. I smashed out a window and hauled about five or six people out, but then the heat was too intense and I couldn't get back in."

Linda Fourby, 17, Sacramento, was riding past in a car that was missed by the plane by about 100 feet.

"A friend of mine said, 'Oh! Look at the plane! We slammed on the brakes. I looked up just in time to see the tail like a speeding ball of fire going right into Farrell's," she said.

Tanzania Accepts Plan To End Fighting With Uganda

By United Press International

Tanzania has accepted a plan to end nine days of fighting along its border with Uganda, Foreign Minister Omar Arfah Ghalib of Somalia said today.

President Idi Amin of Uganda welcomed the plan, but he ruled out peace until the Tanzanian government has withdrawn its forces from the border and the ousted former Ugandan President Milton Obote leaves Tanzania.

In Kampala, a Ugandan military spokesman said 37 guerrillas have been killed in mopping up operations by Ugandan troops near the border town of Mutukula in Southwest Uganda.

The reported deaths would bring to 367 the number of invaders Ugandan forces say they have killed since a 1,500-man force moved into Uganda Sept. 17.

In Dar es Salaam Ghalib told newsmen Sunday that President Julius Nyerere of Tanzania accepted a five-point peace plan proposed by President Mohamed Said Barre of Somalia.

Ghalib gave no details of the plan.

Radio Uganda quoted Amin as saying the plan was "very good."

But Amin said that unless Tanzanian and other hostile forces withdrew from the border, he would order a "big operation of the army and paratroopers to destroy them completely."

Big Business, Special Interest Main Targets

McGovern Raps Administration

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP) — Sen. George McGovern, describing President Nixon's administration as one "bought lock, stock and barrel by the special interest," is drumming a demand that the Republicans name the donors of what he calls a $10-million secret campaign slush fund.

The assertion that big business and special interests dominate the Nixon government has become a central one in McGovern's Democratic presidential campaign. He made it his text again today after pressing it from Brooklyn to Billings Sunday.

"If there was ever an administration that was bought lock, stock and barrel by the special interests of this country, it's the Nixon-Agnew administration," McGovern told more than 700 persons at a $50 fund-raising luncheon in New York.

At home in Sioux Falls, S.D., McGovern called that the principal issue of the 1972 campaign. He addressed an airport rally where, police said, 2,500 persons showed up. Aides sold 1,500 tickets to a $25-a-plate dinner.

Day after campaign day, McGovern is reciting his litany of charges against the administration on that point: the ITT case; the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. loan guarantee, approved by Congress at administration urging; the alleged advance tip-off to the grain exporters about U. S. wheat sales to the Soviet Union—which he called "the foulest deed of all."

In Billings, today, McGovern said in a speech prepared for the Western States Water and Power Conference:

"Under the administration of Richard Nixon, the banks, the conglomerate giants, the oil and utility corporations and their coal subsidiaries have received the tender, loving care of our government, and the little fellow has had benign neglect."

McGovern said no administration since that of Warren G. Harding has been so beholden to big business as Nixon's.

He aid the Interior Department and the Federal Power Commission have been "loaded with friends of the utilities and big oil companies."

McGovern also plunged Sunday into another debate with a Nixon aide, this time Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird on the issue of three American prisoners of war offered release but still in Hanoi.

"I regret very much that the administration seems at least to be playing politics with the three prisoners of war that Hanoi has already offered to release," McGovern said in Queens, N.Y.

He said nothing in the Geneva prisoner-of-war accords requires that the men "be turned over for military briefings" or go through "a long period of indoctrination or briefing or debriefing."

"So I call on Secretary Laird, I call on the President of the United States to let these three men come home just as quickly as possible," McGovern said.

Laird, through a Pentagon spokesman said McGovern "apparently is willing to act as an agent for Hanoi."

"It is a despicable act of a presidential candidate to make himself a spokesman for the enemy," the Laird statement said.

McGovern's "slush fund" charges are directed at contributions collected for the Nixon campaign before a financial-disclosure law took effect April 7. Nixon aides have repeatedly refused to name the donors.

Harsh Rhetoric by Laird

By United Press International

In the most harsh rhetoric of the 1972 presidential campaign, Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird has accused Sen. George S. McGovern of apparently acting "as an agent of Hanoi" on the issue of American prisoners of war.

The problem of the prisoners flamed into prominence in the contest between President Nixon and Democrat McGovern Sunday when the South Dakota senator accused Nixon of delaying the release of three U. S. pilots in North Vietnam for political reasons.

McGovern, appearing in New York City, called on Nixon "to let these three prisoners come home just as quickly as possible."

North Vietnam's news agency announced that the three pilots, who were released with ceremony from prison Sept. 17, had sent cables to Nixon asking U. S. authorities not to interfere with their return home.

Laird immediately issued a statement saying it was "a despicable act of a presidential candidate to make himself a spokesman for the enemy."

"Sen. McGovern apparently is willing to act as an agent for Hanoi in undermining the rights of American prisoners of war with their return home."

Laird said the defense secretary said it was the North Vietnamese who have delayed the return of the U. S. officers, Air Force Maj. Edward Elias and Navy Lt. Markham L. Gartley and Norris A. Charles.

Laird said the U. S. government had had no communication cables to Nixon asking for Hanoi about the release, and he offered to send an American medical evacuation plane to Hanoi "within 24 hours" if there is a transportation problem.

Frank Mankiewicz, political director for the McGovern campaign, said a poll taken by the McGovern organization showed the gap between the candidates had narrowed, with Nixon receiving 54 per cent and McGovern 34 per cent with 10 per cent undecided. He said undecided voters were leaning 21 toward McGovern.

But a poll taken by Daniel Yankelovich Inc. for Time magazine and The New York Times showed Nixon had increased his lead by 11 points for a 62 to 23 per cent advantage. The Yankelovich survey was based on interviews with 2,239 registered voters in 16 key states between Aug. 25 and Sept. 12. It also indicated Democratic voters favor Nixon over McGovern 43 per cent to 40 per cent.

under the Geneva convention," Laird said.

The defense secretary said it was the North Vietnamese who have delayed the return of the U. S. officers, Air Force Maj. Edward Elias and Navy Lt. Markham L. Gartley and Norris A. Charles.

Laird said the U. S. government had had no communication cables to Nixon asking for Hanoi about the release, and he offered to send

Agnew in Three-State Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew is setting his sights for the second week of his campaign on three large states—Texas, Illinois and Florida—considered crucial to President Nixon's hopes for a big election victory.

As he did last week, however, Agnew expects to spend much of his time seeking support for Republican Senate and House candidates.

First stop is Texas. Agnew is scheduled to fly to San Antonio today for a speech to the National Defense Transportation Association before going on to Fort Worth.

On Tuesday, he goes to Illinois for appearances in Chicago and downstate Galesburg before returning to Washington Wednesday. Later in the week, he plans a two-day swing to Florida, Mississippi and Louisiana.

week, Agnew concentrated on plugging for election of Republican senators in four Southern and border states where the Nixon-Agnew ticket is considered far ahead — Tennessee, North Carolina, Virginia and Kentucky.

This week's campaigning is keyed more to building support for the national GOP ticket in three of the nation's eight largest states.

Especially in the South, however, Agnew will try to get support for GOP congressional candidates by linking their Democratic rivals with presidential nominee George McGovern, though in most cases they are shying away from their party's national ticket.

In Texas, Agnew plans to attend a reception tonight or tomorrow at the home of Sen. John G. Tower, who is running for the first time in a presidential year which normally draws a far larger Democratic vote than years in which only state and congressional offices are contested.

Illinois, is a major battleground where both parties are making maximum efforts for its 26 electoral votes. Republican Sen. Charles Percy is favored to win re-election over Democratic Rep. Roman Pucinski. But GOP Gov. Richard Ogilvie is an uphill battle for a second term against Democrat Daniel Walker.

Congressional races are a prime target of Agnew's Florida-Mississippi-Louisiana swing Friday and Saturday. Florida has no Senate or governor's race and Mississippi Sen. James O. Eastland is expected to be an easy winner.

But Republicans hope to capture at least three House seats in Mississippi, and state GOP Chairman Clarke Reed, a leader of conservative forces at last month's Republican National Convention, sees the election as a major opportunity for a GOP breakthrough.

Dutchess Freeman Manager Dies, Long Associated With Advertising

KINGSTON
Hayman E. Miller, 70, of Kingston, business manager of The Dutchess Freeman since its inception more than a year ago, died early Monday at Memorial Hospital in New York City.

Born May 29, 1902 at Mauch Chunk, Pa., he was the son of the late Volmer and Louise Miller. He was the husband of the former Eleanor Virginia Doyle.

Miller began his long career in the newspaper advertising field with the Brooklyn Eagle in 1928 and was later employed on the sales staff of the New York Sun and the Philadelphia Record. He served as head of special promotions for the New York Herald Tribune before his appointment as advertising manager of the International Herald Tribune. In that latter capacity, Miller traveled extensively throughout the world soliciting business for the special publications of the Paris-based newspaper.

In 1967, after his retirement from the International Herald Tribune, Miller joined the special promotions staff of the ad-

After a brief leave of absence, Miller rejoined The Freeman in 1971 to supervise the business aspects of the original Freeman Shopper. The newspaper, published by The Daily Freeman, is mailed to more than 14,000 homes in the Northern Dutchess County area each week.

Miller was a longtime resident of Brightwaters, N. Y. He moved to the Ulster County area eight years ago and built a home in Zena. He had resided in Kingston with his wife for the past three months.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices opened mixed on the New York Stock Exchange today, leaving in limbo hopes that last Friday's gain was the herald of a long-awaited "Indian Summer rally."

Advances held a moderate lead over declining issues on the Big Board, but the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was off fractionally.

Brokers and traders had predicted that trading would be slow and cautious today as Wall Street waited for President Nixon's mid-day address to the International Monetary Fund. The IMF's head, Pierre-Paul Schweitzer, has said that he would not resign, even though he knows the United States wants to see him replaced.

Big Board prices included Woolworth, up 1/4 to 36 1/2 after announcing 1972 sales are expected to climb 12 per cent; Gulf Oil, down 1/4 to 23 1/2; NL Industries, off 1/4 to 15; and American District Telegraph, down 1/4 to 47 1/2.

Quotations by First Albany Corporation, members of New York Stock Exchange and American Stock Exchange, 52 Main Street, Kingston, N. Y., David J. Lamb, resident manager. Phone 338-2444.

Police Cite Two In Ulster Town

TOWN OF ULSTER

A 32-year-old Town of Ulster man was arrested Sunday afternoon by deputy sheriffs on a charge of grand larceny third degree (extortion) and several vehicle and traffic counts following investigation of a complaint from a young Port Ewen woman.

First Sergeant Donald Policastro

said James Joseph Massa of Route 3W (north) was arraigned before Kingston Town

Justice Richard Alberstadt. He

pleaded innocent and was committed to the county jail until bail of $1,000 was posted.

According to the woman's complaint, she went to get her parked car near Ulster Avenue

Mall after she left work at a local business place, and was met by Massa, who allegedly told her she couldn't have her car as he was going to tow it off a town road where she had left it.

Policastro said Massa allegedly told the woman he would remove the car if she didn't pay

$15. She reportedly gave the man the money for which she received a signed receipt. Corporal Walter Baschnagel and

Deputy Christopher Jones also cited Massa for misuse of registration plants, operating a wrecker on a town road, driving without insurance and operating an uninspected motor vehicle.

When deputies returned to the property owned by Massa's

brother, Gene, 37, of 349 Clifton

Avenue, the latter allegedly told the officers he was going to drive the wrecker and tow away

another car. He was cited for operating an uninsured vehicle, having no inspection sticker and operating a wrecker on a town road. Policastro said

Massa posted $100 pending a hearing before Judge Alberstadt.

Pollution Threatens Nylons; Recall Those London Fogs

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — During the worst of the smog epidemics in London 20 years ago, women sometimes found that the fumes disintegrated their nylon hose.

The state department of environmental conservation has apparently been busy finding out if it could happen here.

The department announced in a relatively straight-faced news release Sunday that its air resources division has been exposed nylon hose and pantityhose to the air of New York communities for five years.

The worst spots for pantiyhose, the study found, were in Brooklyn and along North Pearl Street in Albany.

Even where the air is least damaging to pantiyhose—in the hamlet of Petersburg in Rensselaer County, for example—the department warns women to "never, never stand in back of your automobile exhaust pipe when the engine is running."

The department said the villain in polluted air, "the prime destroyer of nylons," was acidic soot—including such destructive agents as the hot particles in smoke, sulfuric acid-laden soot, acid aerosols, nitrogen oxides, various particles from internal combustion engines and solvent vapors and droplets.

Commissioner Henry L. Diamond, in a statement, suggested that "this latest environmental insult should stimulate action for clean air."

4,900 Enrolled at Dutchess

POUGHKEEPSIE — More than 4,900 students have registered in credit and credit-free courses at Dutchess Community College during the Fall registration period recently completed. Classes began Sept. 11.

As the college embarks on its 15th academic year 2,285 day students and 2,000 part-time evening students are pursuing credit course study in 23 general education and technical career curricula with another 700 enrolled in a comprehensive program of credit-free evening courses.

Among the day students are approximately 200 who are studying on a part-time basis, many of them housewives and shift workers.

Demand continues to be pronounced for two-year technical career programs in natural resources conservation and nursing, and all degree programs in the health technologies are attracting unprecedented student interest, according to Dennis Dempster, Registrar and Director of Admissions.

And much study is being undertaken off campus, in-

Burglars Hit Ambrose Again

KINGSTON

When employees at the Ambrose Confectionery Store at 364 Broadway reported for work at 6 a.m. today they discovered the store had been burglarized, according to police.

Detectives said entry was gained by climbing through the transom over the front door.

The juke box was rifled and about $10 in change was stolen, authorities reported. The store has been burglarized several times in the last few years, it was noted.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, SEPTEMBER 25, 1972

Jack Anderson Says The Heroin Hotline...Cooled Off

WASHINGTON — The heroin hotline, which President Nixon personally inaugurated with huge fanfare on April 7, has turned out to be a total flop.

It was supposed to be used by informers to tip off federal authorities where to find smuggled heroin. Yet it has helped agents to uncover only a few pinches of dangerous drugs.

As late as July 24, the President assured a gullible public that the fight against drugs had advanced from the 10-yard line to the 50-yard line. "We have the ball now!" cried football fan Nixon. "Let's go!"

The cheerleading was echoed by Myles Ambrose, the hotline honcho, who said that "effective information" had been developed from some 5,000 hotline calls.

A secret report by the General Accounting Office, however, disputes these claims. Through June 30th, declares the report, the heroin hotline recorded 28,341 calls. But all except 4,363 were totally worthless nut calls, obscene calls and harassing calls.

These 4,363 calls led to the seizure of a grand total of three grams of marijuana in Los Angeles, two revolvers and small quantities of miscellaneous dangerous drugs in New York City and "3,300 dosage units of LSD" in San Francisco.

Up to June 30, in other words, the heroin hotline didn't produce a single sniff of heroin. The marijuana seizures were so inconsequential that they had to be measured in grams instead of pounds or kilograms, which narcotics agents usually use to describe their confiscated booty. Except for the LSD, almost any high school principal could turn up more drugs in a single locker sweep.

Small Fry

All told the hotline netted seven small-fry suspects between the grand opening and June 30th. Yet the hotline system had offices in 23 major cities and tied up narcotics agents who were taken away from more vital work.

Representative Lester Wolff, D-N.Y., who ordered the GAO report, confirmed to my associate Les Whitten that he had received the secret study. Wolff refused, however, to divulge the final totals. His staff is still studying them, he said, but his preliminary assessment indicates little improvement in the hotline after June 30th.

In short, the heroin hotline was a public relations contraption that produced more hot air than heroin. Indeed, even as the President praised it, the hotline was being quietly dismantled. Its long distance lines were reduced from 41 in April to five by the end of June. And the 27 narcotics people, who were borrowed by the hotline system, were cut back to a mere seven.

Footnote: So fouled up was the hotline operation, according to the GAO report, that even those calls described by Ambrose as "effective" were often never assigned to be checked out.

Classified Trash

The Air Force, with a straight face and high level approval, has solemnly adopted an elaborately expensive new procedure to keep foreign agents out of its trash cans.

Everyone who works in the civil engineering section must deposit all their daily trash into red-striped "classified disposal bags." These are stored each evening in classified containers, which are lugged to the Pentagon basement once a week to be destroyed.

Thus, some secretaries' unclassified shorthand notes wind up with the Joint Chief's top secrets in the mountain of classified Pentagon waste that is processed into industrialized pulp.

This special handling of unclassified trash, of course costs the taxpayers a bundle. But the Air Force is taking no chances that crumpled bit of secretarial scrap paper might jeopardize the nation's security.

There's nothing secret, of course, about most Air Force construction. But, on occasion, the Air Force's civil engineers build a facility that they don't want to advertise. With this in mind, presumably, the Directorate of Civil Engineering on August 18th issued new security regulations which declare sternly:

"Scrap office paper will be treated as classified waste and deposited only in containers specifically designated for disposal of classified waste."

At least used cigarette packs and empty coffee cups don't have to be treated as top secret. The new regulations direct, however, that "unclassified waste cans will be limited to an absolute minimum." These can be used for "only obviously unclassified waste such as tobacco products, pipe cleaners, coffee cups, glass, plastic or metal containers, paper clips, pencil stubs, tissue paper, paper napkins, etc."

The Air Force's intrepid security men, meanwhile, are given stern orders not to let a classified scrap escape their scrutiny. They are required to check "all places such as under calculating machines, typewriters, glass covers on desk tops, safes and desks where classified materials might become inadvertently hidden."

Footnote: Colonel Joseph D. Cooper, who drew up the new security regulations for the generals, explained to us that the unclassified trash is kept with the classified waste so the security men won't have to poke through the garbage and read all the discarded waste paper to determine whether it should be classified.

We can only add that our best thoughts and wishes go out to Walter S. Clark for a long and enjoyable life of retirement.

Taught, Not Born

The three surviving Olympic games terrorists in German police custody are aged 20, 21 and 22. As far as is known, the five dead Arabs were in the same age range.

Thus none of them was even alive at the time of the partitioning in Palestine and the creation of the state of Israel in 1948. None of them had any personal memories of the mass exodus of Palestinian Arabs into refugee camps which, a quarter of a century later, still contain upwards of a million people.

The Munich terrorists were made, not born. Carefully nursed on hatred for all of their young lives, they and their fellows in the various groups and factions making up the Palestinian guerrilla movement are the end products of 24 years of refusal by Arab governments in the Middle East to accept the reality of Israel.

There is no excuse for the existence of refugee camps after this long a time, some of which have taken on the aspects of permanent cities. The refugees, the bulk of whose support has been and continues to be paid by the United States through the agency of the United Nations, could have been resettled in the first generation, given a modicum of good will on the part of the Arab governments, chiefly Egypt, Syria, Lebanon and Jordan.

The problem need not have arisen in the first place had not these governments, for their own political purposes, encouraged the flight of the refugees and fostered the cult—the deadly myth—of revanchism.

Now, having reared a generation of terrorists who acknowledge no laws but their own, the Arabs have created a hydra-headed monster that could turn and devour them.

As one observer notes, the Palestinian radicals consider anyone who is not with them totally to be against them totally. Saudi Arabia's King Faisal is as much an enemy to the guerrilla as Israel's Golda Meir. King Hussein of Jordan, who drove the guerrillas out of his country, is considered a traitor.

The guerrillas, a political force who are both idolized and feared by millions of Arabs, reject out of hand any talk about peaceful solutions in the Middle East or accommodations with Israel.

"Our people are determined," says one teen-aged inhabitant of a refugee camp, "to continue the armed struggle until victory."

As that struggle continues, as new guerrillas are manufactured, trained and armed, and as a strong Israel frustrates all attempts to attack it directly, the terror escalates and spreads. No nation is immune to bombings, kidnappings, hijackings and extortion attempts.

Yet even after Munich, even after the massacre of innocent travelers at the Tel Aviv airport, certain governments of the world, for their own political purposes, refuse to speak out against terrorism.

OLYMPIC PRIDE—Americans have had a badly needed shot of pride in our young people competing in the Olympic Games in Munich this summer. Even those who didn't gather in the medals showed outstanding stamina and sportsmanship. Those youths who have spent the long, persistent efforts and have made the sacrifices necessary to get on an Olympic team deserve every credit.

Long Way for Stone Crabs, Steak

I'm a party pooper. It is easy to decline invitations because I have seen all the cast-iron smiles and listened to all the pleasant lies. My notion of a wild time is to take the family out to dinner. Or to a movie where one or two of the actors wear that old-fashioned substance called clothing.

And yet, to my amazement, I found myself at a party last week. Worse, I enjoyed myself so much that I forgot to glance at my watch. It started when Al Horwitz, an expensive press agent for Hollywood movies, phoned to announce that he and his Claire were flying to a birthday celebration in Miami Beach.

Horwitz is pretty cozy with a buck; he has the second one he ever earned. Claire has the first. I figured that if Al would spend that kind of green to sip a couple of highballs, Kelly and I had better join the group.

The celebration was in honor of the 65th birthday of a Broadway character named Jesse Weiss. He owns a restaurant called Joe's Stone Crabs, which is also a fair assessment of Jesse's disposition.

They tell me that Mr. Weiss has done more for Miami Beach than sunshine. The restaurant was closed, except for invited guests. By 7 P.M., two bartenders went into muscle spasms. People were drinking who had been off the stuff since the day before.

Everybody was dressed to the eights. A combo was playing loud sounds. The guest of honor showed up without a tie. Hy Gardner, the columnist, arrived in a beard. Jack Paar assumed his bewildered expression and was devastating in a pink-orange shirt. Miriam Parr was lovely, as always, in lace. I wore my racetrack suit, with the striped shirt and white tie — the badge of Broadway circa 1935. America's favorite boniface, Neil Lang, clinked a little ice and remembered the time when a WASP hung a sign on his beach lawn stating "No Dogs or Jews Allowed."

Walter Winchell heard about it and became furious. He begged the man to remove the sign. The owner said no. "Okay," Winchell said sadly, "at least give us top billing." The shy, snow-haired mayor of Miami Beach, Chuck Hall, strangled the microphone and made a sweet speech about good old Jesse Weiss and his birthday.

Father McConnell took the microphone and murmured: "Chuck Hall. What a great slogan for his opponent." It was the kind of an evening. Morris Landsberg, who owns the Eden Roc, did a wild dance with Mrs. Landsberg and someone put in a call for an iron lung.

There was an official of the FBI who remained anonymous. When the party broke up, I think he stole the champagne glasses for the fingerprints. Roger Wolin, vice-president of Pan American Airways, made a fresh landing and takeoff at a different table every five minutes.

The heroine of the affair was Grace Weiss, who is known by us cynics as the best move Jesse ever made. She is an attractive and gracious hostess, and she ordered a combination of fascinating hors d'oeuvre for 150, in addition to a dinner of lovely stone crabs, chowder, steaks the size of snowshoes, and birthday cake.

I couldn't stand Jesse's happy face so I kept reminding him that, when the party was all over, he would pay the tab. That's the surprise in a surprise party. "I refuse to pay," he said. "I'm the guest of honor."

Someone recalled a comic who said that he had once played to an audience of a thousand midgets and got a standing ovation and didn't know it. One Hollywood character had a letter in his pocket from his rabbi to a rabbi in Miami, so that he could attend high holy day services.

This is merely to let you know that some people will travel a long way for stone crabs and steak. I passed Weiss on the way to the men's room and asked him why he wasn't out front parking cars. "I did it," he said, and I believe him.

The mayor brought a political note into the proceedings when he mentioned a new measure enacted in Miami Beach "unanimously, by vote of four to three." As I said, I'm a party pooper. But this one was full of incessant laughter. All it required was a couple of hoods and some Supreme Court justices and it would have made history...

Family Payment Raised

ALBANY
The State Department of Mental Hygiene has received approval from the State Division of the Budget to increase the foster family monthly care payment per patient from $165 to $195 effective October 1. The increase was authorized by the last session of the State Legislature.

Placement with approved foster families affords patients and residents advantages which are inherent in family and community life and which cannot be provided in psychiatric hospital or state school settings, the department said.

Persons interested in providing family care may contact the Ulster County Association for Mental Health, 27 East O'Reilly Street, Kingston, or Hudson River State Hospital, Social Services Department, Poughkeepsie.

Guest Speaker Listed

POUGHKEEPSIE
George Rudy, chairman of the Mid-Hudson Section of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers, has announced that Dr. Hans L. Oestreicher of the Aerospace Medical Research Lab, Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio, will address the local group Wednesday, Sept. 27, at 7:30 at the IBM 701 auditorium, Boardman Road, Poughkeepsie.

Dr. Oestreicher will discuss the problems of designing intelligence into machines. With machines taking over the boring jobs, there should be some kind of intelligence in these machines to free man for more rewarding work. Dr. Oestreicher will also discuss general foundations of machine intelligence.

Dr. Oestreicher is associated with one of the USAF fine research facilities. With the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the United States Air Force, the IEEE is blessed with the presence of an individual who made the Air Force a force for peace.

As with all IEEE functions, the public is invited to listen to Dr. Oestreicher's presentation.

Why do you pay more for a small turkey than a big turkey?

Don't ask us!

At Shop-Rite's new True Value One Price Meat Department, a turkey is a turkey. Big or small.

At Shop-Rite you won't find that a 10- or 12-lb. turkey, just right for most families, costs more than the large turkey. Our "True Value/One Price" meat department charges the same low price per pound for a small turkey as for a large turkey.

TRUE VALUE POULTRY

What about ground chuck? Lots of families don't need 3 lbs. or more of ground chuck, yet some stores put their lowest price on big 3-lb. or over packages. But take a look at the fine print. It says something like "Prices slightly higher on smaller quantities." With Shop-Rite's "True Value/One Price" meat program, ground chuck costs the same low price per pound no matter what the package weighs!

TRUE VALUE BEEF

ANY SIZE PACKAGE GROUND CHUCK BEEF OR WHERE MACHINE IS AVAILABLE CHUCK PATTIES

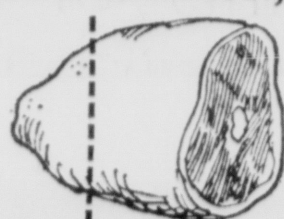

ONE PRICE ONLY!

Take ham. The butt portion of both smoked and fresh hams is almost always priced higher than the shank. We're now removing the hock from the shank portion, making it equal in value to the butt portion. And pricing them both the same. Giving the customer a choice—but at the same price.

The "True Value/One Price" program is designed to eliminate the labor charges on certain retail cuts of meat, lowering the prices on many items. In other words, you'll be able to buy different kinds of meats without paying a premium for thinner cuts, or smaller sizes, or smaller quantities.

For example, you can buy semi-boneless beef bottom chuck (formerly known as California) pot roast—or steak—for the same low price per pound. Top round London broil and top round steak are priced the same, with the price lowered on the usually higher-priced, thicker, top round London broil cut.

SEMI-BONELESS BEEF BOTTOM CHUCK CALIFORNIA STEAK OR SEMI-BONELESS BEEF BOTTOM CHUCK CALIFORNIA ROAST

ONE PRICE ONLY! 79¢

Another meaty morsel. Center cut, oven ready (7-inch) beef rib roasts or rib steaks cut short for broiling (usually labeled with different prices) are both selling for the same price!

CUT SHORT FOR BROILING • BEEF RIB STEAKS OR CENTER CUT, OVENREADY, CUT SHORT RIB ROASTS

When the market price is low on any kind of meat, we'll buy more and pass the savings on to you, just as we always have. But these sales won't simply be advertising leaders. Our ads will list prices on dozens of meat items every week. Check that against the 6, 8, maybe 12, that other supermarkets in the area advertise!

Namath Made Zone Defense Look Like a Sieve

By JOE CARNICELLI
UPI Sports Writer

Joe Namath didn't guarantee it this time but he did give a big hint.

Three years ago, in January of 1969, Namath "guaranteed" the New York Jets would beat the Baltimore Colts in the Super Bowl and he went out and led his club to an upset victory.

But that was the last time the Jets defeated the Colts, who beat the Jets four consecutive times since then. But Namath changed all that Sunday.

During the week he was asked if he would go to a short passing game against Baltimore's zone defense, the best in the National Football League. "No, not necessarily," he replied. "There are times you can go long against a zone." Then he broke into a big grin.

He showed what was so funny Sunday as he bombed away for six touchdowns and 496 yards enroute to a 44-34 triumph over the Colts.

Namath's sensational performance overshadowed a brilliant effort by his "boyhood idol," John Unitas, who had his second straight outstanding game but came away with his second straight loss. The Jets are 2-0.

Unitas completed 26-of-45 passes for 376 yards and two

TDs. He rallied the Colts twice late in the game to within three points but each time Namath, playing in Baltimore for the first time in his career, came back with a long touchdown throw to Richard Caster on the first play after the kickoff. Namath had TD passes of 10, 79 and 80 yards to Caster, 65 to Eddie Bell, 67 to running back John Riggins and 28 to Don Maynard. Don McCauley had a 93-yard kickoff return for a Baltimore TD.

"I didn't really think this was my best day," Namath said, though his statistics proved him wrong. "I was hanging my passes a lot and some of them were short. We went in with a specific game plan and didn't alter it a bit. We tried to get one-on-one with Caster and Maynard and if not, we had something going with Bell. Bell caught seven passes for 197 yards and Caster six for 206.

Elsewhere in the NFL Sunday, Minnesota drubbed Detroit 34-10, Miami ripped Houston 34-13, Washington stopped St. Louis 24-10, Dallas held off the New York Giants 23-14, Cincinnati edged Pittsburgh 15-10, San Diego ripped Denver 37-14, Oakland edged Green Bay 20-14, New England upset Atlanta 21-20, Chicago tied Los Angeles 13-13, Buffalo stunned San Francisco 27-20 and Cleveland whipped Philadelphia 27-17. Kansas City is at New Orleans tonight.

Sub Dave Osborn scored three touchdowns as the Vikings downed Detroit for the ninth consecutive time. Osborn had TD runs of one and 14 yards and caught a 13-yard scoring pass from Fran Tarkenton. Tarkenton also passed 40 yards to John Gilliam for another score.

Jim Kiick scored a pair of TDs and Larry Csonka, Mercury Morris and Bob Griese had one each as the Dolphins remained unbeaten by ripping Houston. Dan Pastorini threw 82 yards to Charlie Joiner for an Oiler TD.

Larry Brown set a club career rushing record and Washington's defense scored one TD and set up another as the Redskins beat St. Louis. Mike Bass' 32-yard run with a blocked field goal attempt in the second quarter broke open the game.

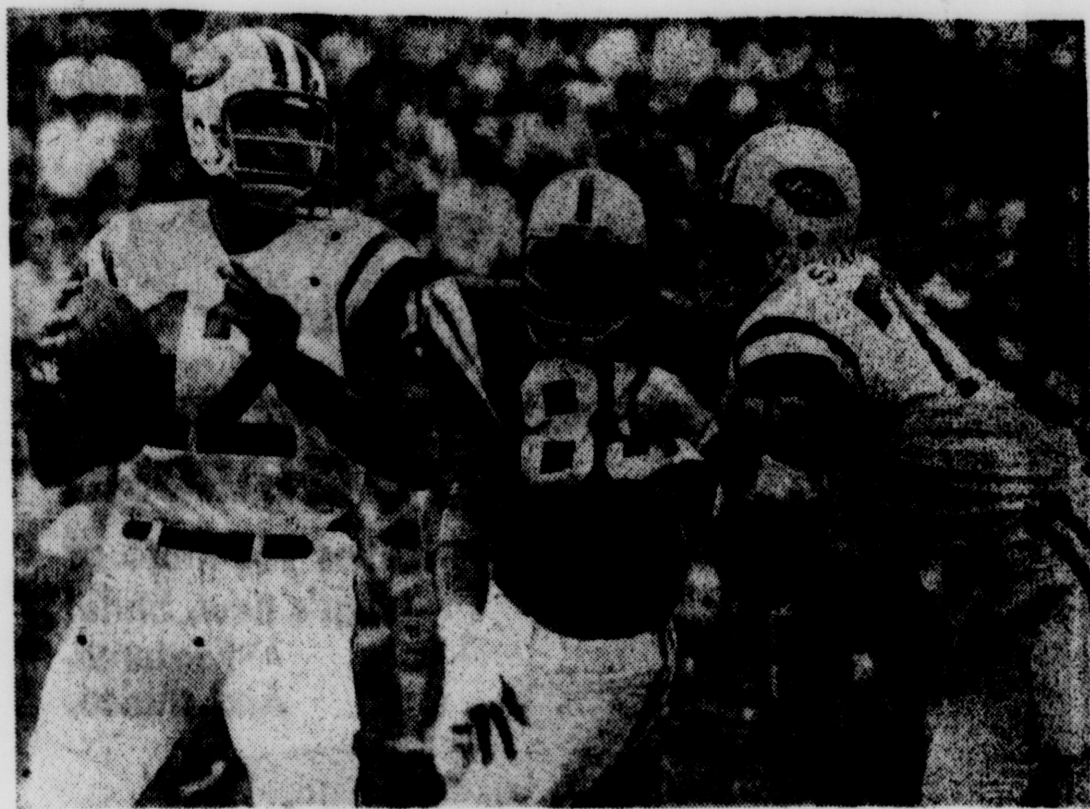

John Hadl threw two TD passes and Mike Garrett ran 41 yards for another score to lead San Diego over the Broncos and Jack Tatum's record 104-yard return of a recovered fumble sparked Oakland past Green Bay.

Carl Garrett ran 12 yards for the go-ahead score midway through the last period and the Falcons' Bill Bell blew an easy 10-yard field goal attempt with 28 seconds left as the Patriots nipped Atlanta.

Mac Percival's 45-yard field goal in the last period earned Chicago a tie with the Rams and Jim Braxton scored twice in the fourth period as Buffalo upset the Forty Niners. John Brodie, San Francisco's star quarterback, left the game with an injured wrist in the second period.

Mike Phipps ran for one score and threw 23 yards to Frank Pitts for another to lead Cleveland over Philadelphia, the Browns' first victory this season after six pre-season losses and one regular season defeat.

THE GOLDEN ARM—Jet quarterback Joe Namath sets to pass to Eddie Bell in first quarter as No. 76 Bob Svihus, Jet tackle holds off Colt right end Roy Hilton. Joe completed 15 of 28 passes for a total of 496 yards, his career high for one game. He also passed for six TDs. (UPI)

Play Simpson Did Versus Old Heroes

by MARVIN R. PIKE
Associated Press Sports Writer

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — When O. J. Simpson was growing up in the San Francisco Bay area, he and boyhood chum Al Cowlings would hop the fence at Kezar Stadium to see the 49ers play football.

"They were my favorite team," Simpson recalled. "I used to cheer for guys like John Brodie and Charlie Krueger."

Now, years later, the 25-year-old Simpson had a chance to play against Brodie, 37, and Krueger, 35.

Play he did. Simpson ran for 138 yards Sunday in the Buffalo Bills' 27-20 upset victory over the 49ers in a National Football League game.

He did not take credit for the triumph, however. "The guys kept fighting, they never gave up," he said. "We had three guys in there we didn't even have last week. We had never seen them and the vets had to be up."

The vets and the "new guys" were "up" most of the game.

Except in the first quarter, when they failed to score from San Francisco's 6-yard line after a 33-yard run by Simpson. Except in the second quarter, following a 31-yard run by Simpson, when they failed to get into the end zone from the 4.

It was in the final quarter that Buffalo came alive. The Bills were on their own 43 and the clock was ticking away. After two plays that netted nothing, Dennis Shaw hit Haven Moses with a 17-yard pass.

A penalty and a loss put Buffalo back on its 47. Shaw passed 25 yards to Simpson and 15 to J. D. Hill. Four plays later Jim Braxton scored from the 2 and John Leybold booted the extra point. The game was knotted 20-20 with 4:08 left.

Leybold, who earlier had booted 32 and 22-yard field goals, kicked off. The 49ers put the ball in play on their 10 after being penalized for clipping.

Steve Spurrier, who replaced Brodie after the veteran signal-caller sprained his left wrist in the second period, missed on a pass to Larry Schrieber. His second toss was intercepted by Buffalo's John Pitts, who got to the 49er 18 before being downed.

Simpson swept left end for eight yards, went right to lose one and then to the 6 for a first and ten. Braxton hit to the 1. Shaw failed to gain on a sneak and then Braxton burst for the winning TD with 1:13 remaining.

Earlier in the game, Bruce Cussett booted 47 and 20-yard field goals for the 49ers. Spurrier passed 20 yards to Ted Kwalick for six points and Schrieber scored from two yards out. Buffalo's other touchdown came on a 20-yard pass from Shaw to Jan White. Brodie, who admitted after the game "I could have played but I don't know how well," said he would be ready to face the New Orleans Saints next Sunday.

"Buffalo played better football than we did, period," was the observation of 49er coach Dick Nolan.

For Buffalo Coach Lou Saban, who put together a bunch of rookies, a few veterans and other teams' castoffs in the last two weeks, it was a happy day. "I've never been in a victory I've relished more," he grinned, despite losing a flock of veterans because of injuries.

Of his "pick-up" team, Saban commented: "They're all good football players. They proved it today."

Many of the recently acquired Bills wore jerseys minus their names on the backs.

"I'll take these faces as long as they win," Saban said when asked about the missing names. Cowlings, Simpson's chum, played defensive end for the Bills.

Elsewhere in the NFL Sunday, Minnesota drubbed Detroit, 34-10, Miami ripped Houston, 34-13, Washington stopped St. Louis, 24-10, Dallas held off the New York Giants, 23-14, Cincinnati edged Pittsburgh, 15-10, San Diego ripped Denver, 37-14, Oakland edged Green Bay, 20-14, New England upset Atlanta, 21-20, Chicago tied Los Angeles, 13-13, Buffalo stunned San Francisco, 27-20, and Cleveland whipped Philadelphia, 27-17. 82 yards to Charlie Joiner for an Oiler TD.

Tom Fritsch's three field goals, one a 54-yarder, helped Dallas beat the Giants despite long TD passes of 94 and 55 yards from Norm Snead to Rich Houston.

Horst Muhlmann kicked five field goals to account for all the Cincinnati scoring as the Bengals downed the Steelers.

John Hadl threw two TD passes and Mike Garrett ran 41 yards for another score to lead San Diego over the Broncos.

Jack Tatum's record 104-yard return of a recovered fumble sparked Oakland past Green Bay.

Rated 11s Ran It Up

The ratings game continued Saturday as the nation's top collegiate football teams ran it up on their opponents.

No. 1 Southern California did little to embarrass their top ranking by burying Illinois, 55-20, while second-ranked Oklahoma made their pitch to regain the top spot by destroying Oregon, 68-3.

Colorado, No. 3, mauled Minnesota 38-6 and fourth-ranked Tennessee rolled it up on Wake Forest, 45-6.

No. 5 Ohio State lost out on the fun and a chance to move up in the rankings by being idle, but sixth-ranked Alabama crushed Kentucky 35-0.

While seventh-ranked UCLA was upset by No. 11 Michigan 26-9, Nebraska, ranked eighth, proved it was the powerhouse everyone had predicted in pre-season, by annihilating Army, 77-7.

No. 9 LSU clobbered Texas A&M 42-17 and No. 10 Arizona State blasted Kansas State, 56-14.

The Trojans from USC fell behind early to Illinois but rallied to score 35 points in the second half to win easily at Champaign, Ill. Actually it was a touchdown scored by John McKay, son of the Trojans' coach, that put USC ahead to stay. McKay scored another TD late in the game and Anthony Davis ran for two more scores to pace the USC attack.

Oklahoma ran up 609 yards on the ground as their Wishbone completely devastated the hapless Ducks. Freshman Joe Washington ran for two touchdowns and quarterback Dave Robertson passed for two more to lead the Sooners.

Quarterback Ken Johnson bulled his way into the end zone twice from a yard out and Charlie Davis scampered three yards for another TD all in the second quarter as Colorado wore down Minnesota.

Gary Valbuena, a backup quarterback tossed three touchdowns in relief of Conrad Graham, who threw one and ran for another, as Tennessee breezed past Wake Forest.

No. 6 Alabama, sparked by quarterback Terry Davis and running back Steve Bisceglia, ran Kentucky ragged under the lights in Birmingham, Ala.

UCLA, rated No. 7, will lose considerable ground after what 11th-ranked Michigan and full back Ed Shuttleworth did to the Bruins in the Coliseum Saturday night.

Shuttleworth ran for two scores in the second half as the Wolverines outclassed the favored Bruins.

Nebraska, upset by UCLA two weeks ago, had some fun of its own against an embarrassed Army team. From the very first play from scrimmage when Nebraska defensive tackle Rich Glover broke the wrist of an Army running back, the Cornhuskers showed their superior strength and awesome power.

The offensive ran wild as Johnny Rodgers scored three times to lead the parade into the Army end zone.

Bert Jones threw three touchdowns passes as LSU broke open a tight ballgame in the third quarter and went on to maul the Aggies from A&M.

Tenth-ranked Arizona State behind quarterback Danny White, who scored two touchdowns and passed for another pair, trounced Kansas State.

In other games: Georgia Tech upset 12th-ranked Michigan State, 21-16, No. 13 (tie) Notre Dame shutout Northwestern 37-0 in their season debut while Penn State, No. 13, got past Navy, 21-10.

No. 15 Texas opened its season on a happy note by defeating Miami (Fla.), 23-10. No. 16 Florida State downed Virginia Tech, 27-15, and 17th-ranked Washington edged Purdue, 22-21.

Ratliff Fined

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Mike Ratliff, the No. 2 draft choice of the Kansas City-Omaha Kings of the National Basketball Association who had been away from training camp since Saturday, returned Tuesday night and was fined $500.

The 6-foot-10 rookie from Eau Claire, Wis., State walked out of camp at Rockhurst College Saturday and was suspended. The suspension was lifted Tuesday night, a team spokesman said.

Joe Is the Motor in Jets' Car

BALTIMORE (AP) — Don Maynard says the New York Jets without Joe Namath "are like a car without a motor."

In that case, the Jets had a supercharged dynamo in the engine compartment Sunday as Namath passed for six touchdowns and 496 yards in quarterbacking a 44-34 victory over the Baltimore Colts.

The TD total was one shy of the National Football League record with the yardage total so great he makes up for any third best in NFL history and weakness we have in other New York is 2-0 and tied with the most in 10 years.

"Some people say the quarterback isn't all that important to a team, but they're not seeing only limited action because of his critically tender ball club with Namath available," Coach Weeb Ewbank said. "We can prepare differently for a game. And once in the game we know we're never out of it because with Joe we always have the threat of a sudden touchdown."

You couldn't get more sudden than Namath's six pointers Sunday.

He opened the scoring in the first period with a 65-yard strike to Eddie Bell.

In the second quarter he hit John Riggins on a 67-yard bomb and quickly followed with scoring strikes of 21 and 10 yards to Maynard and Richard Caster, respectively.

Those three scores came within a 1½ minute span just before halftime, wrapped around a 93-yard kickoff return for a touchdown by Baltimore's Don McCauley and a fumble recovery by the Jets' Mark Lomas.

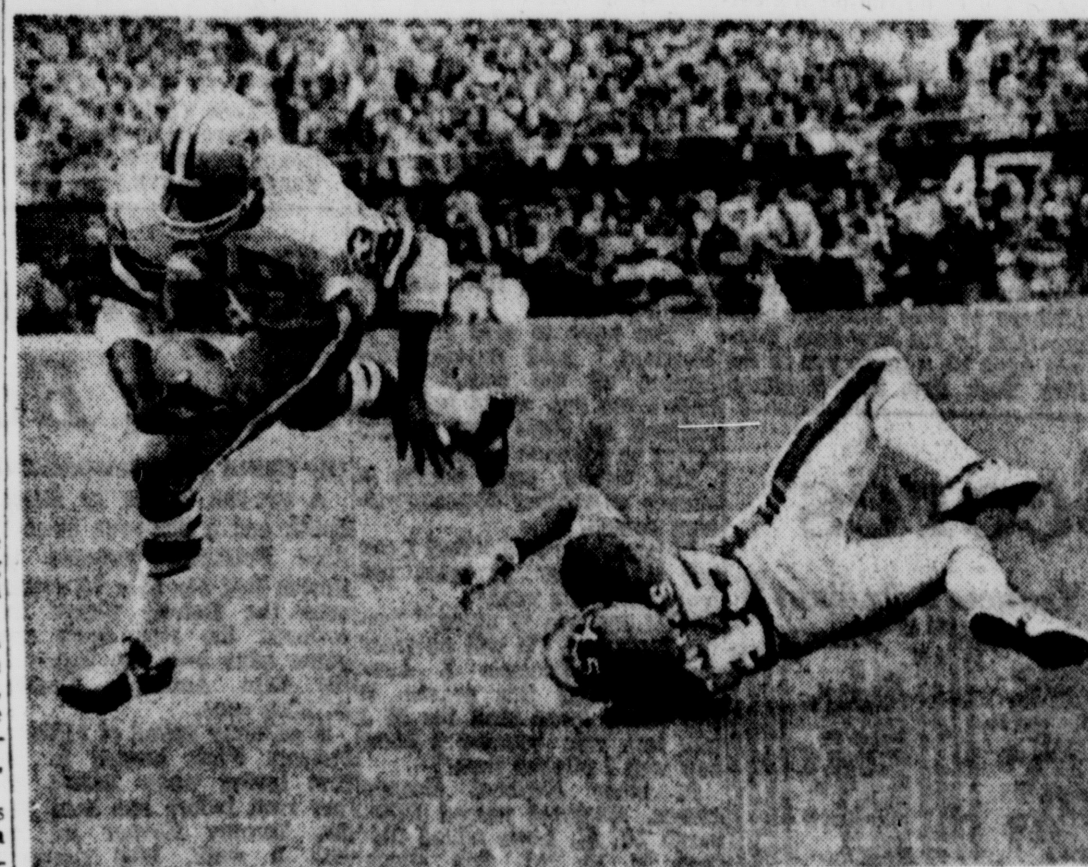

In the fourth quarter Namath hit Caster on a pair of scoring bombs, the first covering 79 yards and the second 80.

Despite the impressive statistics, Namath said the game wasn't his best.

"I know it sounds dumb, but I've had better days throwing the ball," he said in the crowded Jet locker room. "Sometimes I threw it short, sometimes I was long, and sometimes where I wanted to be."

Still, Namath, who hit on 15 of 28 attempts, admitted that you don't throw six touchdown passes every day of the week.

"I don't think I've ever thrown that many in one game before," he said. "Maybe I have, but it was way back on Sixth Street in Beaver Falls," his home town in Pennsylvania.

Didn't Have Any Edge—Landry

NEW YORK (AP) — "We didn't have any edge," Dallas Coach Tom Landry said. "We really didn't put it in there except when we had to."

But what probably hurt more than anything was a blown opportunity to tie the game in the waning moments of the first half.

With Dallas leading 10-7, Snead directed the Giants from their own 35-yard line to the "cowboys' 12. On third down, Snead looped a pass to a wide open Evans inside the five-yard line—enough for the first down—but the running back dropped it.

So the Giants apparently had to settle for a 19-yard Pete Gogolak field goal—but New York was penalized for illegal procedure when the teams lined up.

That forced Gogolak to try again from the 24—a spot where Yankee Stadium's base-line infield joins the outfield grass—and Gogolak's kick sailed wide to the left. "I didn't concentrate as much as I should have on the second field goal and I was coming off the grass and this didn't help either," Gogolak explained.

The Cowboys' only two touchdowns came the first and last times they had the ball.

Bombers Scalp Indians Twice

It Was Long But Good for Yanks

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — "It was long, but good," said New York manager Ralph Houk after his Yankees swept a doubleheader Sunday from the Cleveland Indians to move within three games of first place Boston in the American League East title chase.

"It didn't look as good a day when I woke up this morning, looked out the window and saw all that rain," said Houk.

New York won the opener by scoring two unearned runs on five Cleveland errors in the 11th inning and took the nightcap on John Ellis' three RBIs. Bobby Murcer's 30th homer, and Sparky Lyle's 35th save of the season, tying the major league record.

With seven games left, the Yankees still have an outside chance at the title.

Lyle, the southpaw relief artist acquired from Boston before the season, said the record didn't mean anything to him and that he was already thinking ahead to the club's upcoming two games with Detroit.

Lyle said he couldn't even remember "who I faced" and added that his dad, who drove from Reynoldsville, Pa., "probably got a better kick out of it than I did."

The left-hander seemed more upset with allowing the Indians to tie the first game at 3-3 in the eighth on two singles around a sacrifice bunt.

"I kept going on top of my slider and kept trying to muscle the ball," said Lyle, hardly mentioning how he struck out Graig Nettles and Jack Heidmann and induced Kurt Bevacqua to pop out after relieving Rob Gardner, 8-4, with men on second and third and nobody out in the ninth.

The Yankees busted the nightcap open in the first with four runs.

Cleveland's runs came on an infield single and solo homers by Bevacqua and outfielder Buddy Bell, who threw three runners out during the doubleheader.

Catcher Thurman Munson and pitchers Mel Stottlemyre and Lindy McDaniel were the first-game heroes.

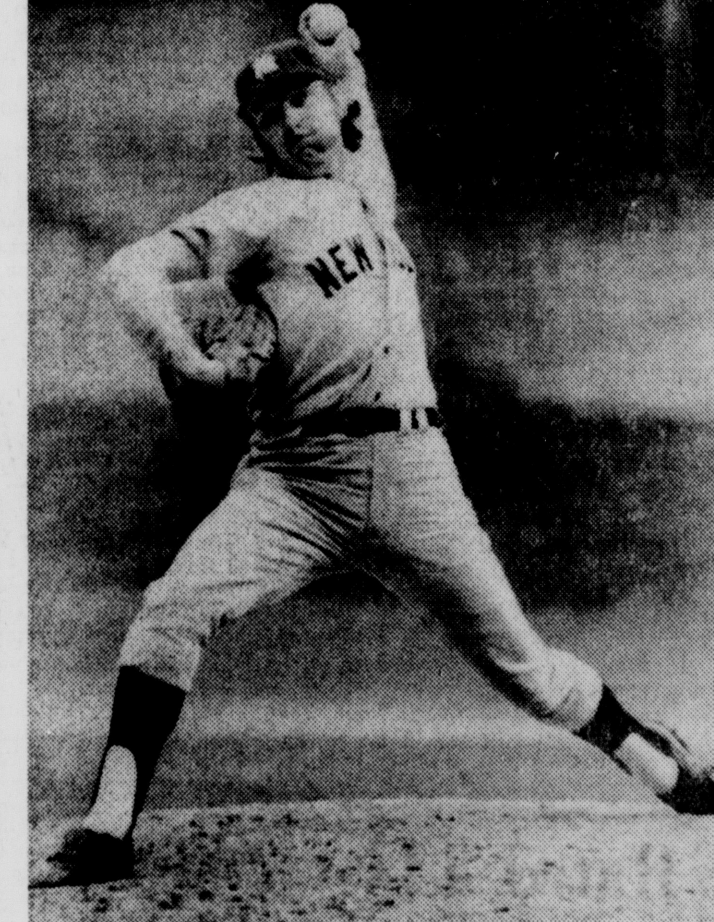

Munson knocked the ball out of shortstop Frank Duffy's hand after being trapped in a rundown to trigger the five-error "explosion" by Cleveland. Stottlemyre stranded 10 runners in six innings and McDaniel, 3-1, got the victory with three innings of relief work after Lyle failed.

"It was a hit-and-run play," said a slightly-embarrassed Munson, "and I couldn't get a good jump off (Steve) Mingo.

I knew I was dead, so I said Munson who slammed into Duffy with his forearm. Then draw a throw to first.

"When it didn't come, all I could do was hope to jar him," continued to third.

Seaver Notches 19th

NEW YORK (AP) — Tom Seaver of the New York Mets vs. Steve Carlton of the Philadelphia Phillies. Who could ask for anything more?

The crowd of 41,644 at Shea Stadium Sunday got all it expected from two of the best starting pitchers in baseball—plus a little bonus from Tug McGraw.

Seaver and Carlton struggled through one of those typical low-scoring battles until the Mets finally nipped the Philadelphia southpaw for the winning run in the eighth.

Then along came McGraw to save another game for the Mets, this time 2-1 over the Phillies. The fireman finished with a flourish, striking out the last two batters in the ninth to record his 24th save this year.

"I was hit pretty hard by the first batter in the ninth," said Seaver of the first out, a hot smash by Willie Montanez which the New York pitcher stabbed. "The next two guys coming up were long-ball hitters and one—Bill Robinson—had hit a home run off me earlier... so, it was time for McGraw."

The Mets' bull pen star made his appearance and got it over quickly, saving a game for the sixth time this season for Seaver, 19-12. Carlton, who's won 25 games for the last-place Phillies, lost his 10th game.

Until the Mets broke through in the eighth off Carlton, the only runs off the two starting pitchers at Shea Stadium were provided by the long ball. Tommie Agee hit a home run in the New York first and Robinson cracked one for Philadelphia in the seventh.

"I threw a nothing ball to Robinson," admitted Seaver. "I got it up."

Seaver also threw a bad pitch to Carlton leading off the eighth and threw a wild pitch to Denney Doyle that allowed the Philadelphia hurler to take second. The New York ace left Carlton stranded, however, by getting the next three batters.

Ted Martinez singled to open the Mets' eighth. Agee then laid down a bunt and the runners wound up on second and third when catcher John Bateman's throw to first went awry. Martinez roared home with the tie-breaking run on Lute Barnes' sacrifice fly.

"You have to give credit to Martinez," said Seaver. "He hustled all the way." If he hadn't the run would not have counted as Agee was caught trying to advance to third.

The victory gave Seaver a chance at another 20-game-winning season.

"I hope," he said, "that I can put it together at least one more time this year."

"If I can win 20 again," Seaver continued, "it will be some consolation because I have pitched poorly this season. It will mean more than the 20 I won last year because I know how well I pitched then."

In other National League games, Montreal nipped Pittsburgh 2-1. St. Louis edged Chicago in 10, 2-1. San Diego shaded Atlanta 2-1, Cincinnati romped past Houston 10-2, and Los Angeles blanked San Francisco 7-0.

Boots Day singled home both runs in Montreal's win over St. Louis.

St. Louis pushed across an unearned run with none out in the bottom of the 10th inning against relief pitcher Jack Aker to beat Chicago.

Clay Kirby and Mike Corkins teamed up for a two-hitter as the San Diego Padres edged the Atlanta Braves.

Kirby, now 12-14, went the first five innings before withdrawing with a sore elbow and Corkins finished up. Each allowed one hit.

Pete Rose and Dave Concepcion each hit two-run singles and Hal McRae slammed a two-run homer to pace Cincinnati to victory over Houston.

Rose hit a two-out bases-loaded single in the sixth and added an RBI single in a four-run outburst in the seventh. McCrae hit his fifth homer of the year in the eighth inning to give the Reds their final run.

At Downing pitched a four-hitter and Willie Davis drove home four runs with a homer, double and single as the Dodgers blanked San Francisco 7-0 to send the Giants down to their eighth straight defeat.

By completing a sweep of the three-game series, the Dodgers ended the season series between the intrastate rivals tied at nine games each.

Reggie and Rico Pace Bosox Win

(By United Press International)

A two-run homer by Reggie Smith and a three-run blast by Rico Petrocelli powered the Boston Red Sox to a 7-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers and restored the Red Sox's one-game edge over the Tigers in the tight American Eastern Division race.

A capacity crowd of 34,182 at Fenway Park howled in the first inning when Boston got four runs before one man was out. Tommy Harper led off with a walk, Luis Aparicio doubled down the left field line and both runners scored on Carl Yastrzemski's sharp single to right. Smith then followed with his 21st homer of the season into the left field screen.

Petrocelli's homer accounted for three more Red Sox runs in the fifth.

In other American League games, Baltimore edged Milwaukee, 4-3. California nipped Minnesota, 2-1. Chicago tripped Texas, 7-4, and Oakland split a twinbill with Kansas City, the Royals taking the first game 4-2 and the A's coming back to win the nightcap 2-1.

Jim Palmer collected his 10th major league victory and scored the winning run on Bobby Grich's ninth-inning single as Baltimore beat Milwaukee.

Palmer permitted the Brewers just seven singles in picking up his 21st win of the season against only nine defeats and improving his lifetime mark to 100-47 with ninth inning help from Eddie Watt.

The score was 3-2 in the ninth when Palmer singled and rode home on base hits by Paul Blair and Grich. Palmer had also scored in the seventh, on Blair's sacrifice fly.

Rudy May scattered seven hits and rookie Chris Coletta hit his first major league homer as California defeated Minnesota.

Billy Parker scored the first Angel run in the second when he hit a sacrifice fly after two singles. Coletta homered in the eighth to help May up his record to 11-11.

Mike Andrews snapped an eighth inning tie with a sacrifice fly and Dick Allen followed with a two-run homer in Chicago's win over Texas.

The White Sox, who rallied from a 4-1 deficit, went ahead for the first time 5-4 in the eighth when pinch-hitter Lee Richard and Pat Kelly singled and Andrews hit his long run-scoring fly to center. Allen followed with his 37th home run of the season over the centerfield fence.

Oakland's Reggie Jackson singled, stole second and third and then scored the winning run in the ninth inning on a throwing error by rightfielder Steve Hovley in the second game to gain a split of the doubleheader and allow the Athletics to keep a 3-1-2 game margin between them and second place Chicago in the AL West. The Royals won the opener on five singles in the seventh which produced three runs and gave them a 4-0 lead. A run-scoring single by Jackson and a double by Mike Epstein netted the A's their only runs in the ninth.

Onteora Indians Early Season Surprise in UCAL

KINGSTON—Records don't tell the whole story of a team, and in the UCAL Ontario is no exception. After two weeks the Indians are 1-1, that works out to a three-way tie for fifth place, but they are also the only team to have convincingly whipped an opponent in a supposedly thoroughly balanced league.

Red Hook supporters will voice some opposition to that statement, but first hear the case. Walkill, rated a potential winner with size to match any one's, ran into a stone wall in Boiceville Saturday. Frustrated for a half by an OCS offense that wouldn't relinquish the ball, the Panthers went out after the intermission and found Indian defenders storming over their blocks.

A Mark Walther pass and a run by Mike Dunn each collected enough yards to generate Walkill's only drive of the day in the fourth quarter, but the opportunistic Indians killed that with 14 yards left to go by snarling a fumble. In the meantime, the Indians moved at will. Only a missed field goal and an incomplete when a receiver stopped running too soon kept the score down as Walkill's defense stopped OCS only once on downs all day.

Now Raider rooters will point to their wins in protest. True, Walkill too was a victim, and Pine Bush, which edged the Indians the week before, fell in Red Hook Saturday, but neither game could be classified a slaughter. The score against Pine Bush was 20-6 as Red Hook continued as the league's scoring leader. What the Raiders did establish was a tough defense. Offensively they continued to rely on the arm of Matt King to put points on the board. With the trio of tough running backs in the OCS camp and the blocking display the Indians put on against the Panthers, these two teams, despite their records, have to be rated a draw. That by no means concludes the UCAL's possibilities. Can Liberty sleep forever? Will Rondout learn how to score? Will Marlboro ever cool off? And don't count out the Ellies or the confidence Lem Atkins is building in Highland.

It seems Liberty got whistled out of a win against the Dukes. With four touchdowns called back, Woody Witherwax's marauders must be frothing at the mouth by now. They've got to win sometime, and chances are it will be big. At the same time the Marlboro bubble grew a little, and that slick little team will have easier opponents upcoming to test their new-found muscle.

Rondout proved again to possess one of the stingiest defenses around. They're tough to beat for that reason alone. In two games, the Ganders have surrendered only 179 yards to two opponents, the top defensive statistic in the UCAL.

Ellenville seems to have a mental block against Highland. Their tenacious defense always keeps them close, but what should have turned out a scoreless tie against the Big Blue turned out a loss when alert Randy Kite ran a fumble across the line against them.

That win ran Highland's unbeaten string to 17, something Lem Atkins has got to be pleased with. If the coach has his team believing in themselves, that 1-0 start will turn out to be a pretty solid foundation.

Court Over Billie Jean

ALBANY, Calif. (UPI)—Margaret Court of Australia recovered from a slow start Sunday to easily defeat Wimbledon champion Billie Jean King for the singles title in the Golden Gate Pacific Coast Tennis Classic.

Mrs. Court, using her powerful serve, wore down the fast American to take the match, 6-4, 6-1, and first prize money of $4,000.

The 30-year-old Australian, who took a year out in 1971 for the birth of her son, Daniel, tied the score at 2-2 in clashes with Billie Jean since returning to full-time tennis.

Mrs. Court's win avenged the defeat in an earlier match in which Rosemary Casals of San Francisco beat Kerry Melville of Australia, 6-2, 6-4, for third place in the $20,000 tournament.

Mrs. Court was slow to start and in the first set behind 2-4 before a series of mistakes line calls upset both players.

After one of the mistaken calls, Billie Jean won the point but said to the umpire, "My service was wide a mile." The point stood.

Mrs. Court lost her serve into play and began to move around the court more and took the set, 6-4, without losing another game.

The 5-foot-10 Australian, married to the son of a former western Australian state minister, had no trouble in disposing of Mrs. King of nearby Emeryville in the second set.

Big Car Names Click

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer

The familiar names were back in the saddle in auto racing during the weekend, including millionaires Richard Petty, Bobby Unser and Jackie Stewart.

And, though he didn't get to victory circle, old-timer Joe Leonard won his second consecutive United States Auto Club driving championship.

Unser, the world's fastest driver on a closed course, won the Trenton 300 for Indianapolis-type championship cars. Stewart captured the Canadian Grand Prix for the second straight year and Petty did what he has been doing for years. He bided his time and knocked everybody off during the late stages to win a 262-mile stock car race at Martinsville, Va.

Stewart, the wee Scot who let the world's driving title slip through his hands this year to Brazil's Emerson Fittipaldi, kept his Tyrrell-Ford in front for all but four laps of the Formula I race at Mosport Park, Ont.

En route to his third Grand Prix triumph of the year, Stewart set a lap record of 1 minute, 16.1 seconds for the 2.45-mile Mosport circuit, for 116.328 miles per hour.

It also was one of his better paydays, $25,000. New Yorker Pete Revson came in second in a McLaren, winning $15,000, while his McLaren teammate, Denis Hulme, came in third for $12,000.

Petty, down by a lap at one time, kept his Plymouth in contention at Martinsville and when Bobby Allison ran into trouble with 32 miles to go, roared into the lead and was never headed.

Allison's Chevrolet brushed against another car on the 44th lap, cutting a tire. His pit stop for a replacement cost him the lead and Petty rolled home free. Allison also was fined $500 for ignoring an official black flag while he was limping around on another flat.

Third place went to David Pearson in a Mercury, fourth to Buddy Baker in a Dodge and fifth to Jimmy Hensley in a Ford.

Unser beat Mark Donohue's Roger Penske McLaren to the finish line by a mere 14 seconds before 23,000 at Trenton. Driving an Olsonite Eagle with which he has set speed records from coast to coast, Unser had a crackling speed for the 300-mile distance of 143.236 miles per hour.

Canada Rebounds

MOSCOW (AP) — Team Canada beat the Russians 3-2 in the sixth game of their International hockey series, but nevertheless the winning coach criticized the officiating.

"Those are two of the worst officials I have ever seen handle a hockey game at any time in my career," declared Harry Sniden, the Team Canada coach, in a post-game conference Sunday night following the Canadians victory before a capacity 15,000 at the Sports Palace.

Sniden referred to the West German officials, Franz Baader and Josef Kompalla.

"We are very, very concerned that these two may work again in this series and we feel a meeting of the officials running this tournament is in order at this time," Sniden said.

"The Canadians have forgotten they are playing under international rules," commented Boris Kulagin, the Soviet assistant coach, who also was at the post-game conference. "In Canada we did not appeal to coaches and referees."

Canada's three goals all came within a span of 90 seconds in the second period. Denis Hull of the Chicago Black Hawks tied the score at 1-1 at 5:13 of the period. Yvan Cournoyer of the Montreal Canadiens broke the tie at 6:31 and five seconds later Paul Henderson of the Toronto Maple Leafs rapped in what proved to be the winning goal.

The Russians had a chance to tie in last 2 1/2 minutes with Canada short-handed when Ron Ellis of Toronto got a two-minute penalty for holding. But goalie Ken Dryden of Montreal thwarted the Russians with some key saves.

The Soviets still lead in the eight-game series, 3-2-1. The seventh game is scheduled to be played Tuesday.

Junior Football Teams Finding the End Zones

KINGSTON—With opening day jitters out of the way, the Junior Football League entrants started putting points on the board, as three teams rolled to convincing victories during the season's second weekend of play.

The Saturns led off Friday's twin-bill with a 26-0 rout of the Geminis, the Apollos followed by stopping the Titans 18-6 and in Sunday's afternoon contest, the Mercurys dumped the league's newest member, the Atlases, by a 16-0 score.

Mike McWeeney passed a touchdown, ran for another and scored two extra points to lead the Saturn victory. He hit Neil Setinsky with a 28 yard strike in the first period then rambled eight yards to paydirt in the second. The winners boosted the halftime count to 20-0 on Joe Argulewicz's 26 yard interception return, and Dave McMahon closed the scoring with an eight yard blast in the final period.

The scores:

Mercurys ..... 0 7 7 2-16
Atlases ..... 0 0 0 0-0
Mercury: B. Reilly 7 run (M. Reilly run)
Olsen 10 pass from B. Reilly (P. Reilly run)
Titans ..... 0 0 0 0-6
Apollos ..... 0 6 6 6-18
Apollos: Whiffen run (run failed)
Titans: Armstrong 1 run (run failed)
Apollos: Lockrow 60 run (run failed)
Murphy 20 run (run failed)
Geminis ..... 0 0 0 0-0
Saturns: Setinsky 28 pass from McWeeney (McWeeney run)
McWeeney 8 run (run failed)
McMahon 8 run (run failed)

Scott Lockrow went 60 yards in the third quarter to put the Apollos ahead to stay. The winners had taken an early lead on Bob Whiffen's fumble recovery in the second period but saw the score knotted just after the half when the Titans' Brian Armstrong bullied over from the one. In the fourth quarter, quarterback Dave Longendyke handed off to Charles Murphy who scampered 20 yards to close the scoring.

The Reilly boys engineered a rude welcome to the JFL for the Atlases. Quarterback Bill packed a keeper into the end zone in the second period as Mike ran the PAT. The Mercury leader came back after intermission to hit Roy Olsen a 10 yard aerial, this time with Pat Reilly running the extra point. The winners charged the young Atlas team for a two-point safety in the fourth quarter to end the scoring.

$800.00 a month extra cash

$26.67 a day when you go to the hospital for any covered accident or illness

NO AGE LIMIT • NO SALESMAN WILL CALL • BENEFITS START THE FIRST DAY YOU'RE HOSPITALIZED.

Start Protection At No Charge

We have a great family insurance policy for you. It pays at the rate of $800.00 a month for adults—$26.67 a day—for as long as you stay in the hospital for any covered accident or illness. It also pays at the rate of $480.00 a month—$16.00 a day—for your covered children.

If you're 65 or over, you're paid $560.00 a month in benefits, but only for your first three months in the hospital. From then on, you collect full benefits of $800.00 a month.

To attract as many new policyholders as possible, we offer you coverage without charge, while you're inspecting your policy. The National Home policy has very few ifs, ands or buts. You can understand it in just a few minutes. There's a chance that someone in your family will go to the hospital this year. If it happens to you, you'll find our benefits a godsend.

Extra Cash Paid Direct

This money is paid directly to you—not to any doctor or hospital. If you have bills to pay, you decide who gets paid first. If you're free and clear, you can put the money in the bank. And furthermore, our lawyers tell us this money is free from income taxes.

Regular Hospitalization Insurance May Not Be Enough

Do you have group insurance where you work? A Blue Cross Hospitalization Plan? A Blue Shield Medical Plan? Major Medical? Or are you on Medicare? You'll find, when you go to the hospital, that some policies like these may not pay all of your bills.

Our policy will pay you up to $26.67 a day for some of the expenses your other insurance may not cover when you are hospitalized.

Take Medicare. When you are hospitalized there is a $68.00 Hospital deductible and a $50.00 Medical deductible. Then there is 80-20 co-insurance on the Medical portion of your hospital bill (they pay 80% of the bill and you pay 20%). Finally, there are maximum allowances for each type of medical service. If a doctor charges more than the allowance—as many do—you have to pay the difference.

Our policy will help to pay for some of these expenses.

This National Home Policy Never Runs Out

If you were hospitalized today, would you know what your hospital coverage pays? Would you know if your present policies have a maximum benefit... a 1 to 2 year time limit... or any other such limiting features? Because some policies have these limitations... what would a long hospital stay do to your finances?

Our policy, however, pays you cash at the rate of $800.00 a month ($26.67 a day) even for the rest of your life, if need be.

Here's what we pay

(over and above Medicare and all other insurance)

If you're under 65

$800.00 a month—$26.67 a day—when you go to the hospital, starting from the very first day of confinement for any covered accident or illness. Payments continue as long as you are hospitalized—for life if necessary.

—PLUS—

$480.00 a month cash—$16.00 a day—when a covered child (one month through 18 years) goes to the hospital for any covered accident or illness. Payments continue as long as the child is in the hospital.

All your premiums after you, the policyholder, have been confined by a covered hospitalization for 8 weeks in a row. We pay the premiums for your entire family plus your monthly benefits until you leave the hospital. We pay them for life if necessary.

If you're 65 or older

$560.00 a month cash—$18.66 a day—when you go to the hospital for any covered accident or illness, starting from the very first day of confinement. Payments continue for three months, then become...

Dear Friend:

I wouldn't recommend anything I didn't honestly believe in. And I think National Home's $800.00-a-month plan is just about the best additional insurance protection you can give your family—especially in these days of rising medical costs.

Having been retained by National Home as a marketing consultant, I've looked over the policy very carefully and am happy to give this plan my wholehearted endorsement.

I've made a point of getting to know the folks at National Home. And you won't find more decent, friendly people.

That's why I cannot imagine anybody passing up the chance to enroll in this health plan.

We all know what a terrible thing it is to be hospitalized. But what a relief it is to know there's extra cash coming in when you need it most! Take my advice. Send the enrollment form below now—before you forget.

Sincerely,

Once you have enrolled in this National Home plan, your rate can not be changed because of how much or how often you collect from us—or because of advanced age—but only if there is a general rate adjustment on all policies of this class in your entire state. We will issue you only one policy of this class.

No catch to these rates

When you see premiums like these, you'd suspect that the policy is full of clauses that make payouts few and far between. This is not the case.

Look high and low through the provisions set forth in the policy. Let your lawyer or insurance agent help. You'll find no unusual exclusions.

Indeed, we feel that this plan's payout provisions are among the most liberal available. For example:

- We pay benefits on Workman's Compensation cases. Many policies don't.
- We pay benefits for life if necessary. Many policies have a 1-year or 2-year limit.
- We pay up to $26.67 a day starting the first day you're hospitalized, and continuing for as long as you stay.
- We continue your insurance regardless of age. Some policies cancel you after a certain age.
- We excuse you from paying premiums when you are hospitalized longer than 8 weeks in a row. Most policies don't.

How then are these rates possible?

This special plan is offered by National Home Assurance Company of New York which is licensed by the State of New York.

We sell insurance by mail. And administer it by mail. And have cut the cost of contacting you down to postage stamp size.

Your neighborhood letter carrier makes it all possible. He delivers more insurance for your money. And you don't even pay him a commission.

Get Started Now

Most important, though, is that it costs nothing to start your coverage for you and your entire family. Simply fill out and mail the official Enrollment Form. When your policy arrives, study it. If you like it, pay the first month's premium within 10 days of its effective date. Then, even if you are hospitalized during your inspection period, your policy will already be in force.

If you decide not to send in your first month's premium within those 10 days, you will not have coverage, and there is no further obligation.

FISH Offers Assistance In the New Paltz Area

By WADE BURKHART

NEW PALTZ — There is a new group in New Paltz called FISH, set up for the sole purpose of giving help to people who need it.

FISH stands for Friends In Service Helping. After organizing through last spring and summer, it incorporated and began operation Sept. 1, according to Mrs. Sally Rhoads, who along with Mrs. Frances Hagney and Mrs. Linda Farrow organized the New Paltz FISH.

Mrs. Rhoads said FISH was begun in England, and brought to this country by Robert Howell, an Episcopalian minister, in 1964. The FISH movement, without the benefit of any real national headquarters or affiliation between local organizations, has continued to spread through the country since then, said Mrs. Rhoads.

The New Paltz FISH chapter began when Mrs. Hagney became interested in the Hyde Park FISH, and had a member of the Hyde Park group speak to the Afternoon Social Concern group at the Reformed Church of New Paltz.

Out of that grew the New Paltz FISH. Mrs. Rhoads said most FISH chapters are affiliated with a church, but the New Paltz FISH was non-sectarian, and had members of all faiths.

FISH in New Paltz does not now need money, said Mrs. Rhoads, having received contributions from several local churches, service organizations such as the Lions Club, and individuals. With 59 volunteer workers, it is in good shape with regard to manpower.

"Our big problem so far is getting people to use us," she said.

FISH serves those living within the New Paltz School

District. It provides emergency home services such as housework, shopping services, child care, providing a meal, or locating needed articles.

FISH also provides service for shut ins such as companionship, reading to the blind, and transportation. Volunteers from FISH will tutor those with problems in school, interpret foreign languages in an emergency, and provide emergency transportation.

There is not charge for any service FISH performs. Mrs. Rhoads says it's all just part of being "neighbors."

If a senior citizen wants to go shopping and needs transportation, or a mother has a sudden emergency and needs someone to look after her children, or a student finds arithmetic more than he can comprehend without help, all the person in need has to do is call 255-6474.

The FISH telephone is answered at the New Paltz Emergency Communications Center 24 hours a day. The dispatcher receives the call, and refers the caller to the FISH volunteer on call that day. The person in need calls the FISH volunteer, who solves the problem, or gets someone who can.

If senior citizens need transportation at a regular time each week, as in the case of one traveling out of town for special medical care, FISH has "scheduled transportation" to take care of those cases, said Mrs. Rhoads.

FISH volunteers do not expect anything back for the services they perform. Mrs. Rhoads said anyone who did wasn't wanted in FISH. All FISH volunteers want is to be able to perform a service for someone who needs it.

The New Paltz FISH is the first in Ulster County. Mrs. Rhoads said a second FISH chapter was presently being organized in Rosendale.

Jerilyn Vozdik Weds James F. Kehoe

Jerilyn Bernadette Vozdik, daughter of Mrs. William Vozdik of 39 Finger Street Extension, Saugerties, and the late William Vozdik, became the bride of James Francis Kehoe, Saugerties, son of Mrs. Ernest Gantert of Webster, N.Y., and the late Arthur Kehoe, on Sunday, Sept. 10.

The Rev. Joseph Hamilton officiated at the double ring ceremony at St. Mary's of the Snow Church in Saugerties. Mrs. Charles Dickman, organist, accompanied Mrs. John Nau who sang traditional wedding selections.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Lorin Beeher, the bride chose a gown of Cluny lace over bridal silk in the Victorian style. The gown was fashioned with a wedding ring neckline and featured a tubular chapel train. A Camelot headpiece of lace and pearls held her court length. French imported silk illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white glimmellas, white roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. Lorin Beeher of Poughkeepsie was matron of honor for her sister. Attendants were Mrs. Robert Spica, West Saugerties; Mrs. Fred Pesce, cousin of the bride, Lake Katrine; Mrs. Bonita Pease, Newburyport, Mass.; and Miss Marilyn Pranis, Kingston.

MRS. JAMES F. KEHOE
(Jerilyn B. Vozdik (Glendale Studio))

Attendants wore Victorian-styled gowns fashioned with bodices of Cluny lace over ivory silk and full length brown skirts. Clusters of fall flowers served as their headpieces and they carried cascade bouquets of carnations, pompons and autumn pods.

Miss Stacey-Lyn Spica, godchild of the bride, was flower girl. Her gown was similar in styling to those of the other attendants and she carried a basket of assorted pompons and carnations.

The bride's mother and the bridegroom's mother were each presented with a white rose.

Robert Francello of Saugerties was best man. Ushers were Terry Andrews of Boston, Mass.; Gerald Kane, Philadelphia, Pa.; William Walker, Charlotte, N.C.; Albert Hrdlicka, Saugerties; Brett Christopher Beeher, nephew of the bride was ringbearer.

A reception was given at the Lamplighter in Saugerties.

Her husband, a 1962 alumnus of Webster High School, attended Union College where he was a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. He is employed as a salesman for Seagrot Wholesale Florists in Albany.

Women Can Become Achievers and Conquer Obstacles in Life

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I can certainly feel that widow with dentures who is worried about how men would feel about a woman if they knew she wore dentures. I am 34, divorced, and just got mine. I am well-adjusted in other areas, but I dread meeting a fellow I might like, and then having to tell him I wear dentures.

Your advice to keep her mouth shut won't help her much. If she becomes romantically involved with a man, I am sure they will do more than just hold hands, and he will surely learn the truth if they do any passionate kissing.

I hope you hear from men telling you how they feel about a woman with dentures because this is my problem, too.

"G" IN BROOKLYN

DEAR G: My dental consultants assure me that the dentures can be made so realistically that their presence will be undetected during the most passionate kissing. (Unless you get a kiss that will cause you to drop your teeth, which is highly unlikely.) But please read on.

DEAR ABBY: In my 34 years I have never heard it suggested that a man's emotional responses to a woman might be affected by her wearing dentures!

I refer to your column in the Columbus Citizen: If that woman signed "Feeling Low" is concerned lest the man in whom she is interested would find her less attractive if he knew she wore dentures, she should put him to the test as soon as possible. If there is a remote chance that his attitude proves to be as she fears the sooner she finds out that a jerk he is, the better ours truly.

WARREN CHADBOURNE

GROVE CITY, O.
DEAR WARREN: Your letter will bring joy to the hearts of many a lady who smiles thru her dentures. Thanks for writing.

DEAR ABBY: That letter about dentures took me back to when I courted my second wife. She told me she had something to "confess" before we married. Then she said, "I wear false teeth, dear."

I replied, "That's all right, sweetheart. So do I." Then she smiled and said, "Yours are obvious and before we're married I think you ought to fix yourself up with some that don't clack." (P.S. I did).

GRAMPS

DEAR ABBY: You told that widow with dentures that the man who marries her should be glad he won't have any more dental bills to pay. Whooaa, girl!

Even tho her dentures may fit perfectly now, mechanical teeth do wear out. And one's mouth and jaw formation changes, requiring new dentures. Theoretically dentures should be changed every five years — like an automobile, to adjust to muscle changes. And don't forget breakage!

"DOC"

DEAR ABBY: Some lady wanted to know how men felt about women who wore false teeth. I have had lots of experience along that line as I am 80 years old and have had five wives (four died and one divorced me). The last four had false teeth when I married them and I didn't think a thing of it. I am going with a lady right now who has false teeth, and it doesn't make any difference to me. I really think I prefer women with false teeth because they talk less.

"HAVE FALSIES (TEETH), TOO"

DEAR ABBY: Tell the gal who's sensitive about her dentures not to worry. They won't keep the guys away. I married one with china clippers and a padded bra because I thought all the rest of her was real. Too late I found out she was also false-hearted. That blew it!

Hints from Heloise

WHAT GOES SPRING, SPRANG, SPRUNG?

Dear Heloise:
When my old faithful rubber gloves sprang a leak, I didn't have enough left in my household budget to buy a new pair right away. So I picked up a pair of those disposable ones at the supermarket.

Then I slipped the old heavier gloves on over them. No more leaks! The heavy gloves protect the thinner ones, so they last much longer.

And if the thinner ones do develop holes, they can be replaced for a fraction of the cost of the other gloves.

MIKKI H

Dear Heloise:
No matter how many cupboards we have, there never seems to be enough storage space.

To make your glass shelf hold more, put every other glass upside down.

You'll be amazed at how many glasses will fit on one shelf!

NANCY GUSSE

After reading your letter, I went directly to my cupboard and did my glasses your way. Nancy girl, I love you for this hint! Now I can rush down and buy those pretty glasses that I have been wishing for.

Let's hope they will squeeze in the new-found space!

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:
It seems the spirit moves us about this time every year. The spirit being hubby and I getting out our Heloise Kit (nylon net, vinegar, and elbow grease) and digging in. Things around here are really hectic for a couple of days.

It also seems about this time every year is when the "Spirit finds out the hunting season will soon open."

MRS. HUBBY

THIS COLUMN is written for you . . . the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of The Daily Freeman. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible.

REALLY WORTH IT — How many of us have not longed to be able to lie back in the pine straw and just day-dream as we did when we were kids? Ellen Igou of Miami, Fla., did just that while on nearby Key Biscayne, Fla., and reported that it was worth all the trouble of picking out pine straw from her blonde hair after she got home. (UPI)

'Dead' Daughter Returns

CHICAGO (AP) — It was "like having a new daughter born," said the father of a runaway girl who contacted police after her parents mistakenly identified her as one of two teen-agers found slain in a park.

Rosemarie Pilewicz, 17, said she read a newspaper report of her death and thought, "How can the world say this? I'm breathing."

Her parents had reported her missing Aug. 10.

Her return left police with the bodies of two nameless girls, each shot once in the back of the head with a .32-caliber pistol and left lying face up in Washington Park on the city's South Side. They were found early Saturday by a jogger.

Six other women and an infant girl have been found dead in unsolved homicides in Chicago and its suburbs since June.

Asked how she mistakenly identified one of the dead girls as her daughter, Violet Pilewicz said, "The girl was just like a twin. Even the earrings were the same."

Richard Pilewicz, who had viewed the body after his wife had come out of the morgue weeping, told reporters, "I went in and my eyes were foggy and I was shaking and it looked exactly like her."

A family friend, Sigmund Rajta, theorized that when police called and said they had a body that might be Rosemarie's, the mother "went to the morgue expecting to see her daughter dead... it was an emotional thing."

It wasn't too much loving that made her pregnant.
It was too little.

The most important man in her life walked out. Her father. Her mother was too busy trying to support the family alone to offer much help or guidance. The closeness she lacked at home she tried to find with other people, in other ways. It didn't get her loved. It got her pregnant. Unloved children, deserted children, unwanted children are among the people in this town who are counting on you. Poor people, sick people, disturbed people, old people need your help and need it fast. Give the United Way. Please.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is a good day for energy and ingenuity in handling details which are vital to your welfare and to that material feeling of success and wellbeing that is vital to your peace of mind. Take the time to go over those accounts, both due and receivable, and get them behind you.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Study that work ahead of you carefully and see what part of it requires more time and diligent effort and schedule hours wisely. Taking the health measures necessary is important. "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Once your important work is done, get out to the social and make big headway, mixing business with pleasure and coming out the winner. Show appreciation for one who truly loves you. Don't take him or her so for granted.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)

Plan how to be more efficient at your regular work and how to have more rapport with kin in the future. Delve right into the essentials of life and forget the ephemeral for now. Think logically.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Find the right sources of data that will give you the information you want and need for some important project you have in mind. Then talk it over with others. Combine forces so you have early success.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those interesting young people who early understands business and other activities of a nature so that a secure life will be uppermost in this mind, and since there is a flair for cooperation here, upon reaching maturity your offspring will already be well fixed. Give as fine an ethical and spiritual training as you can, and a business administration course which will be most helpful. A sense of humor here.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

THREE WEEKS: (Q) I have worked at this department store three weeks. There's this real cute guy there. I have had two dates with him. On the first we almost had sex but didn't. On the second we did.

Now he won't talk to me and hasn't asked me for any more dates. He didn't tell me, but I found out he has a regular girl friend.

I know what I did was wrong. But what's done is done. What do I do now? I've tried so hard to be friendly with him. I want to keep going out with him and having fun.—Outside in Oklahoma.

(A.) You're right. What's done is done. And yours is a classic example of how to do things wrong.

Here are a few possible reasons why he is through with you: He feels guilty. Or you were too easy to be interesting. Or he figures you would do the same with another boy another night. Or your free sample was disappointing and he went back to his regular girl. Or he doesn't want the blame if you get pregnant. Or he is afraid that if people get to talking about him and you, he will lose his job.

Take your pick of the reasons. Then start over, the right, decent, slower way, with some other boy.

NERVOUS: (Q.) I like William. His sister told me he was going to ask me to go with him. But I am afraid Roger will tell William things about me that aren't true. Roger doesn't much like me. He wanted to do something I wouldn't do so he quit going with me.

If Roger tells any lies on me William may not ask me. I am falling apart waiting and wondering. Please tell me what to do.—All Twitchey in Tennessee.

(A.) Don't let a bunch of "ifs" tear you apart. Do what you think is right and hold your head up. Some boy will see you are the girl for him. It may not be William but whoever it is he will be worth waiting for—calmly and confidently.

(Jean Adams reads and considers every letter, but she regrets that she cannot answer each personally. Mail your questions and comments to Jean Adams, care of The Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 2402, Houston, Texas 77001.)

Show Beat

MOVE OVER DAVID AND DONNIE. MOVE OVER— Young Australian Rick Springfield with innocent good looks and a teeny-bopper charisma may take some fans from David Cassidy and Donnie Osmond.

Rick, who has had five of his songs on Australia's top 10 this year, is beginning to make a few ripples up here.

Although this album "Beginnings" is selling well, everyone's talking about his second album, which he is working on. It's going to be more hard rock and less of the gentle folksy sound.

TIDBITS—Rumors of an Allman Brothers split-up after their cancelled tour have fizzled out with the word that they are trying to set up another concert.

Bunky Odom, representing the Allmans, and Sam Cutler, representing the Grateful Dead, have been negotiating for joint concerts for the two groups. The proposed concerts would be six hours. Each band on for two hours and a jam for the other two hours.

The Bee Gees are working on their first feature picture called "Castle X." Right now they're shooting in Yugoslavia.

WHY WE SAY

FREE LANCE

MILITARY MEN: This name for someone who works for himself started in medieval times. It referred to mercenary soldiers who belonged to no special army but were free to fight with a lance supplied by the army that paid the most money.

Barbs

By PHIL PASTORET

Some people wage, rather than play, the game of chess.

That new form of address, "Ms." is sure a boon to all the gals who can't spell.

Counting YOUR chickens before they've hatched is a favorite pastime of speculators.

Of course dogs take an undue interest in mailmen: Don't they carry "post" cards?

Some Television Notes

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Notes on-in-law, continues to do well in the statistics—not only in the 70-city rankings, in which it came in sixth among all network's new Julie Andrews variety series, which showed only moderate ratings strength in its premiere, took a sharp dive in the New York and Los Angeles overnight statistics in its second outing. ABC-TV's new "Paul Lynde Show," a TV's "Tonight" show will be cartoon-like comedy series marked on the series next Monday when he is saluted by personalities including Jack Benny, Hope, Dean Martin, Saturday on ABC-TV's psychic Gov. Ronald Reagan, Jerry Lewis, George Burns, Flip Wilson, Sammy Davis, Dan Rowan and Dick Martin.

How Times Have Changed episode are David Ladd, son of Debut, used to be hot stuff for a network, but a press release, NBC-TV's Oct. 12 NBC-TV show simply states routinely that ex-Beatle Paul McCartney suffered a gastric attack in a restaurant, will return to work in the series this week, and McCartney's wife, on the apper on the "Tonight" show bongos. # Allies Begin Push To Clear Highway 1

SAIGON (UPI)—Allied forces killed more than 150 Communists in central coast fighting and began a push to clear vital Highway 1 before the approaching rainy season cuts off key government outposts from resupply, field reports said today.

A U.S. Air Force C130 transport plane tried to parachute supplies today to one threatened outpost at Ba To, about 320 miles northeast of Saigon, but winds carried the cargo behind Communist lines, the reports said. But allied fighter-bombers were credited with killing 35 Communist troops and knocking out five mortar and two antiaircraft positions outside the camp.

U.S. military sources said American jets caught Communist units trying to move heavy 130mm artillery pieces to high ground Sunday in an attempt to shell reoccupied Quang Tri City and destroyed at least six of the big guns. One source said the U.S. airmen had advance word of the Communist move from prisoner interrogation and "other information. We were ready for them."

Most of the central coast action centered in Quang Ngai Province where Ba To is located, but other weekend battles also erupted in Quang Tin to the north and Binh Dinh to the south, allied military communiques reported.

Territory occupied by the North Vietnamese when the monsoons begin will be difficult to recapture, sources said.

U.S. command spokesmen said Sunday's raids into the North cut a fuel pipeline about 34 miles above the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) separating the two Vietnams while other strikes knocked out seven bridges in the same area.

The U.S. jets struck Sunday as the Communists were moving toward high ground north of the Ba Long Valley between Quang Tri City, 404 miles north of Saigon, and the former U.S. Marine base at Khe Sanh to the west.

The 130mm guns are the heaviest in the North Vietnamese arsenal and can fire a 73-pound shell 17 miles. They require a six-man crew and can fire five to six rounds per minute.

To the south, government forces Sunday turned back a stepped-up Communist drive that ranged into three adjoining provinces of the north-central coast, field reports and military spokesmen said.

In the heaviest attack, hundreds of Communists with amphibious tanks and 130mm guns assaulted a hill near Tien Phuoc, 330 miles north of Saigon.

In Quang Ngai, the next province to the south, Communist troops also attacked the militia outpost at Hoa Thanh, in neighboring Quang Ngai province and a mile south of the Duc Pho district capital, U.S. planes and ships of the 7th Fleet provided support to help drive off the attack.

The offshore naval gunfire knocked out two of the attacking tanks, the government said.

The South Vietnamese command said the North Vietnamese lost 10 men killed; the South Vietnamese reported no casualties.

In nearby Binh Dinh province, South Vietnamese and Communist troops clashed a mile east of Hoi An district capital. The South Vietnamese reported killing 23 Communists at a cost of one of their own men killed and 10 wounded.

FORT WORTH FIVE HOLD CONFERENCE — Thomas Laffey, Matthias Reilly, Daniel Crawford, Paschal Morahan and Kenneth Tierney (L-R) appear at news conference after their arrival at airport in New York City. The five men, held in a Texas prison since last June for refusing to testify in a grand jury probe of gunrunning for the Irish Republican Army (IRA), arrived to the cheers of about 200 supporters and family members and the sounds of an Irish pipe band. ## Pilots to Nixon... 'No Military Escorts'

TOKYO (UPI)—Three U.S. pilots freed from prison in North Vietnam do not want to fly home with American military escorts, the Vietnam News Agency said today.

A VNA news dispatch from Hanoi monitored in Tokyo said that the pilots sent separate cables to President Nixon Saturday requesting that U.S. authorities refrain from interfering with their trip home.

The pilots were Maj. Edward K. Elias, of Valdosta, Ga., Navy Lt. (jg) Markham L. Gartley of Dunedin, Fla., and Navy Lt. (jg) Norris A. Charles of San Diego, Calif. They were released May 17 to the American antiwar group now on a visit to North Vietnam.

In Washington, Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird accused Hanoi of making "propaganda tools" of the pilots and their relatives in the North Vietnamese capital. Noting that North Vietnamese officials three weeks ago promised to release the three pilots, Laird said the Communists were still making the men "parade around" Hanoi and "they are even using the families of these prisoners of war as propaganda tools at this particular time."

The American group had been expected to leave Hanoi Saturday on a flight bound for Vietnam, but they were not on the plane when it landed. U.S. antiwar activists with the group said North Vietnam chose a different route, apparently fearing U.S. authorities in Laos would try to "kidnap" the fliers.

The VNA said that the pilots in their cables assured their families and President Nixon of their good health and good spirits and their desired intention to be accompanied, without interference, by their civilian escorts, including the Rev. William Sloan Coffin Jr., Prof. Richard Falk, David Dellinger and Cora Weiss.

It was not known when the pilots planned to leave Hanoi for the United States but Elias said in a cable to his wife in Georgia that he might return home "possibly Thursday."

Charles' wife, Olga, and Gartley's mother, Minnie Lee Gartley, are with the pilots in Hanoi.

La Guardia Airport news conference.

The five men were jailed in Fort Worth last June for refusing to answer questions during a federal grand jury probe into attempts to smuggle weapons into Northern Ireland.

Federal Judge Leo Brewster on Saturday released the men in bail ranging from $5,000 to $15,000 after Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas ordered them admitted to bail.

Fort Worth Five Out on Bail

NEW YORK (AP) — Home on bail from a jail in Texas, five Irish-American New Yorkers have denounced the government's attempts to question them about possible gun-running for the Irish Republican Army.

"The Department of Justice is riddled with fascism and the Archie Bunkers are in control in Washington," one of the five, Thomas Laffey, 32, of Williston Park, N.Y., said Sunday at a weeping throng of friends and relatives welcomed the five at the airport Sunday.

Their lawyer, Paul O'Dwyer, characterized the release of the five as "the culmination of a rather expensive campaign to make the Bill of Rights and the Constitution living documents in America."

One reason the men refused to answer questions after being granted immunity, O'Dwyer said, was that they had been taken "1,400 miles" away from their home areas to be questioned. "There was something putrid in that total concept," he said.

"The tyranny in Ireland is not unlike the tyranny we've been witnessing in Texas over the last four months," said O'Dwyer.

Freed with Laffey were Kenneth Tierney, 45, of Yonkers;

Rogers Makes Appeal to UN For Treaty to Curb Terrorism

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — P. Rogers delivered the appeal in the annual U.S. policy speech as the 132-nation General Assembly opened general debate with terrorism a leading issue.

The global treaty being proposed by the United States, U.N. diplomats said, would be aimed at persons who kill, kidnap or cause "serious bodily harm" to civilians when:

- The purpose of the crime is to harm another country.
- The crime is committed by foreigners in a country which is not their political target.
- This definition would apply to such cases as the murder of Israeli athletes at the Munich Olympics by Arab extremists and to the international murder-by-mail campaign against Israeli diplomats.

It would not apply to terrorism within a country against the home government, or to deeds by members of armed forces during hostilities.

Belfast Hotel Damaged

BELFAST (UPI)—A bomb today heavily damaged the Russell Court Hotel, one of downtown Belfast's newest and most luxurious hotels.

No casualties were reported in the blast, which reduced the hotel's newly opened ground floor reception area to what was termed "a complete demolition job."

The explosion in the hotel's underground garage came only hours after the Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army (IRA) said it would continue its Northern Ireland bombing campaign despite political talks in England on the province's future.

Police said four armed men drove a television repair van into the hotel garage and told the staff there was a bomb inside triggered to go off in an hour. Police evacuated the building, partially opened early this year. The explosion came 30 minutes later.

The Russell Court, seven stories of glass, steel and concrete in a tiered-block architectural design, stands on the fringe of the heavily Protestant sandy row area of downtown Belfast.

A spokesman for the Provisionals said the talks opening today near Darlington, England, would be "of no consequence" because neither the IRA nor its Protestant counterpart, the Ulster Defense Association (UDA) were participating.

Birthday Party Becomes Death Trap

RHODES, Greece (UPI)—Martha Lindqvist of Stockholm celebrated her 56th birthday Saturday night with a party at a restaurant much patronized by Scandinavian visitors to the island of Rhodes.

One minute 200 people were talking and singing in the upstairs snack bar of the Oscar Restaurant. The next they were screaming in terror as a short circuit in an electrical control panel set fire to the highly flammable bamboo panels which covered the walls.

Firemen rushed to the scene but did not use their hoses for almost an hour, witnesses said, for fear of electrocution by the burning wires through which power still surged.

By the time the fire was out, 31 persons were known dead and another 16 were hospitalized with severe burns and broken bones.

Most of the victims were Scandinavian tourists. Three Irish girls were also feared among the dead.

"While the fire brigade rushed immediately to the scene, firemen did not have masks against smoke or special fire extinguishing chemicals, and they would not use their water for almost an hour," waiter Stylianos Economou said.

Dimitrios Kastrinis, 47, organizer at the Oscar, said it took 45 minutes for power company technicians to reach the scene and cut the electricity. "Meanwhile, firemen could not use their hoses for fear of being electrocuted," Kastrinis said.

Police said identification of the dead was difficult because many were only charred remains.
